Fraud Is Said To Jeopardize Savings Funds

Maryland Firm Among Eight Under Cloud

NEW YORK (AP)—State Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz said Tuesday fraud jeopardizes deposits of more than 100 million dollars at eight savings and loan associations across the country.

He named three institutions in Chicago, two in Idaho and one each in Maryland, Utah and Washington.

Lefkowitz said the jeopardy to deposits stems from the fact that they are insured by a firm, operating out of a one-room office in Tangier, Morocco, which does not have adequate assets to guarantee them.

D. Spencer Grow, president of the Idaho and Utah firms, said in Provo, Utah, that Lefkowitz' charges were ridiculous.

He said his firms have not dealt with the Morocco insurance agency for almost two years, and are currently insured with the Security Financial Insurance Corp., Baltimore.

He added that Lefkowitz is supported by Eastern banking interests who are opposed to investment money going west.

Lefkowitz identified the Morocco concern as the International Guaranty and Insurance Co.

Promotion Under Fire

In addition, Lefkowitz declared, the savings and loan associations "knew or should have known that false and fraudulent statements were contained in their own promotional literature and in the promotional literature of International."

Lefkowitz made his allegations at a news conference and in court papers which he used to obtain an order for examination of 46 witnesses in a prove of the situation.

He listed the savings and loan associations as:

The City Savings and Loan Assn., 1656 W. Chicago Ave.; the First Guaranty Savings Assn., 5920 North Ave., and the Chicago Guaranty Savings Assn., 3335 N. Ashland Ave., all of Chicago.

Baltimore Firm Named

The Idaho Savings and Loan Assn., 318 N. 9th St., Boise, and the Prudential Savings and Loan Assn., 1328 Overland Ave., Burley.

Commercial Savings and Loan Assn., 231 E. Baltimore St., Baltimore (at Baltimore the address was said to be 334 N. Howard St.).

The Utah Savings and Loan Assn., 65 N. University Ave., Provo, and the Security Savings Institution, Inc., Seattle, Wash.

Lefkowitz said these institutions solicited deposits through mail and newspaper advertising offering a 5 per cent return. Some of this solicitation was in New York State.

The attorney general said he began to receive letters about a year ago from New Yorkers who thought the representations "looked too good to be true." His office then launched an inquiry.

Floodwaters Begin Receding In Washington

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI) —Rivers swollen by heavy weekend rains and melting snows on the Cascade Mountain range started to recede slowly late Tuesday and officials hoped they had passed the crisis in western Washington's worst flood in 27 years.

The flood inundated hundreds of valleys in western Washington, crippled east-west travel across the state and drove 1,100 persons from their homes.

Civil Defense workers said the Green River had dropped 1.7 feet during the day and the Snoqualmie River had gone down about one foot. The Snohomish County sheriff's office said the Snohomish River had dropped six to eight inches during the day.

An amended weather forecast also brightened the picture as it called for decreasing rain early Tuesday night with partial clearing later in the night. The weather bureau predicted it would be partly sunny Wednesday. Earlier Tuesday, the weather bureau had predicted more rain from warm "chinook" winds moving inland from the Pacific Ocean.

(A "chinook" is a warm southwesterly wind in the Washington and Oregon coastal regions. It got its name from early settlers at Astoria, Ore., because such winds blew from the direction of the Chinook Indian camp.)

As the waters started to recede, health workers moved in to prevent epidemics. The Seattle-King County Health Department warned residents of the flooded areas to boil water for 10 minutes before drinking it or using it for cooking purposes.

At least one person was feared dead in the disaster. George Shaake, of Ellensburg, Wash., was caught in a landslide while driving near the summit of Snoqualmie Pass northeast of Seattle.

Teacher Acquitted In Whipping Case

FREDERICK (AP)—A country school teacher who whacked a girl with a yardstick to discipline her was found innocent Tuesday of assault and battery.

Magistrate Byron W. Thompson ruled that punishment handed out by E. Maurice Clark was not excessive. Clark is principal and teacher at Sabillasville Elementary School. He was charged with being abusive to Linda Ann Bentzel, 11, of Cullen Md.

Linda Ann complained to her parents Nov. 6 that Clark had beaten her with a yardstick and also grabbed her around the neck and pushed her up and down.

Big 3 Reach A-Detection Study Accord

Russia Accepts Compromise—Key To Eventual Ban

GENEVA (UPI) — The United States, Britain and Russia announced Tuesday they have reached formal accord on a work plan for an East-West review of methods for detecting underground nuclear explosions.

Scientists from the three powers will begin their study here Wednesday.

Soviet delegate Semyon Tsarapkin gave the go-head for the studies when he told Tuesday's 137th Nuclear Conference session that his government had finally accepted a compromise work plan suggested by the United States last week.

Agreement Hailed

Conference sources hailed the agreement for the review—considered a key to any eventual accord on a nuclear test ban—as the product of compromises by all three delegations.

A U.S. spokesman stressed that the compromise fully allowed the scientists to make recommendations on the basis of new U. S. information on the hard-to-detect underground blasts compiled since East-West experts met in the summer of 1958.

This new information showed that underground tests were more difficult to detect than had been previously believed. Some, it was found, could be muffled to avoid detection entirely while others were almost indistinguishable from earthquakes.

Report Due By Dec. 11

Faced with these pessimistic indications, the United States and Britain were unwilling to suspend underground tests indefinitely unless the scientists could work out a cheat-proof control system to police them effectively.

Tuesday's formal agreement was announced in a communique that instructed delegations of U. S., British and Soviet scientists, already in Geneva, to begin meeting Wednesday and report back to the main nuclear conference by Dec. 11.

Weather Bureau Promises 'Ideal' Thanksgiving

"Sunny and mild weather will be featured from Oregon and California eastward through the middle and southern Mississippi Valley and the Gulf states," the Weather Bureau said.

"Cool crisp weather accompanied by partly cloudy skies will dominate the Atlantic seaboard.

"Across the northern tier of states, a cold temperature regime is expected to prevail with scattered light snow and snow flurries from western Montana to the northernmost fringes of New England. Occasional light rain is likely in the State of Washington.

"Temperatures are expected to range above seasonal normals over central and southwestern portions of the country while below seasonal normals are called for in the middle and South Atlantic states."

Steel Output Picking Up But Shortages Continue

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Commerce Department said Tuesday that, despite a rapid pickup in steel production, many industries must continue holding down output "until the renewed flow of steel reaches volume proportions."

The department did not indicate when it believes this will happen.

This comment on developments since the steel walkout was h ed by court order on Nov. 7 was contained in a department summary of economic developments in October.

The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service prepared for efforts to resume negotiations in the steel dispute soon after Thanksgiving.

The mediation chief, Joseph F. Finnegan, planned to have his staff confer Wednesday with President Eisenhower's steel fact-finding board. Another meeting was arranged with Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell for later Wednesday.

The court order, which sent 500,000 steelworkers back to the mills after a 116-day walkout, expires on Jan. 26. In the absence of a prior agreement, the union will be free to strike again then unless workers vote to accept the latest offer.

The Commerce Department report said over-all economic activity last month changed little from September. It said losses caused by the steel strike were offset by advances elsewhere.

Personal income was higher than in August and September, the department noted, and a moderate decline in wage and salary payments was more than offset by increases in other types of income.

Plane Spreads Death And Terror In Chicago

Monitors Given Legal Weapons Against Hoffa

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal judge armed his monitors Tuesday with strong legal weapons that may help them win a two-year fight to clean up the Teamsters Union and possibly to force out union President James R. Hoffa.

District Court Judge F. Dickinson Letts—acting over the opposition of Teamsters lawyers and and the union's representative on the monitor board—granted the three-man panel sweeping powers to dig into charges that Hoffa had mishandled money belonging to Detroit Local 299, his home local.

The judge took this step eight days after the Supreme Court refused to interfere with lower court decisions giving the monitors broad reform authority. The Teamsters Union had raised the challenge before the high court.

Letts announced he will back up the monitors by issuing any subpoenas they may ask for during their probe of the Detroit local's fund situation. The judge also authorized the monitors to take testimony under oath.

Last Sept. 14, the monitors filed a report with Letts asking him to hear charges that Hoffa used some $400,000 of Local 299's funds as security for loans in connection with a Florida real estate development. Hoffa is president of that local, as well as the union.

Such a transaction, the monitors contended, would violate a 1958 consent order which allowed Hoffa to become Teamsters president on a provisional basis.

This order was handed down by Letts under a compromise settlement of a suit in which 13 dissident rank-and-file Teamsters tried to oust Hoffa, contending his election in 1957 was rigged. The monitors were set up under that same order to ride herd on the union—something they have had trouble doing.

The monitors said Tuesday that if it is established Hoffa did violate that order, he should be ousted as president and possibly expelled from the union.

The September report and the request for the legal powers both came from monitor Chairman Martin F. O'Donoghue and Lawrence T. Smith, a board member. Daniel B. Maher, the Teamsters representative on the board, did not sign the report and opposed giving the monitors investigative powers.

Atlas ICBM Roars From Launch Pad

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) —An Atlas ICBM, destined for a major role in the U.S. man-into-space program, surged into the sky Tuesday on a flight over the Atlantic Ocean.

The shot was made one pad away from an Atlas-Able rocket being outfitted for an attempt to orbit the moon.

The gleaming missile coated its pad with liquid flame as it pushed away slowly at 2:48 p.m. e.s.t. Three engines generating 360,000 pounds of thrust—most powerful of all U.S. rockets—drove the Atlas nearly 500 miles above the sea.

Pilot Confident He Could Land Safely, Recording Reveals

That was the first warning the Midway Airport control tower received Tuesday of an impending crash of a cargo ship into a row of homes.

The transcript of conversation between Capt. Claude Helwig, piloting the huge TWA transport Flight 595, and Lloyd Harold, in the control tower was released by the Federal Aviation Agency. The text:

The FAA said the "No! No!" exclamation came from Harold as he saw the cargo plane crash and burst into flames. There were several men working in the tower.

Boy Becomes Blind After Eye Removed

Eugene Foster, the father, learned he had tuberculosis and must enter a sanatorium.

Herter Terms Acheson Blast False Logic

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter Tuesday fired back at Dean Acheson, former Democratic secretary of state who has accused the Eisenhower administration of heading toward appeasement of the Soviet Union.

At a news conference, Herter said Acheson had no solid ground for assuming the administration will make one-sided concessions to the Soviet Union to ease the danger of war over Berlin's future.

Herter in effect charged Acheson with using false logic and meaningless phrases to back up Acheson's denunciations of any talks whatever about Berlin.

"It seemed to me that what Mr. Acheson had done was to build up a lot of straw men and knock them down," Herter said.

"His assumptions were that the Russians would be insisting still on the position they held a year ago last November when the crisis was precipitated. Actually they have come a very long way."

In a speech last Wednesday, Acheson described any East-West talks about Berlin's future at this time as an invitation for Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to cut the throat of the allies.

In rebuttal, Herter said the Soviets have abandoned threats in demanding a new Berlin arrangement. Further, Herter said, the Soviets have repeatedly acknowledged the legal right of the Western Allies to remain in West Berlin.

Herter also struck back at Acheson's claim that the Eisenhower administration has no foreign policy except "locomotion"—moving President Eisenhower around in visits to foreign countries.

This is a good phrase but it has no meaning, Herter said. The administration has "a very distinct foreign policy," he contended, with the main objectives clearly spelled out.

Clergymen, Teachers, Office Workers Candidates For 'Let-Down Headache'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Do you suffer a severe headache when you suddenly ease up after a stretch of tough work? There's a name for it — "let-down headache." Its most likely victims are clergymen, teachers and office workers.

This newly recognized ailment was described Tuesday by Dr. Lester Blumenthal of George Washington University, one of the nation's leading authorities on headaches.

He said ministers and priests may come up with such headaches on Monday mornings "when they let down after the week's tension of preparing for and delivering perhaps two sermons on Sunday, hearing confessions on Saturday, and so on."

Teachers, Blumenthal said, are vulnerable on Saturday morning "when they wake up and suddenly realize they don't have to face 40 young hyenas as they have all week."

Blumenthal said government workers in the nation's capital also are frequent sufferers.

He told about the phenomenon at a panel on headaches during the annual scientific assembly of the District of Columbia Medical Society and amplified later at a news conference.

Blumenthal said let-down headaches result from excessive stretching of blood vessels. For reasons still unknown, many people are physiologically constituted so that their vessels are likely to stretch excessively under emotional or physiological stress.

In the case of the let-down victims, Blumenthal said, they build up tension during the week. This causes certain body chemicals, including adrenalin, to keep the blood vessels and other tissues of the head in proper tone.

Then comes the let-down. With tensions removed, the blood vessels stretch, blood rushes through them faster — and headache results.

Folks who may have them can take heart.

Blumenthal says that in many cases they can be prevented by:

1. Pacing yourself during the week so you don't build up so much tension.
2. Learning your physiological and emotional limits—and remaining within them.
3. Sleeping with the head of your bed elevated.
4. Avoid constipation.
5. Getting up early or setting your alarm clock so you'll wake up in the night for a while. Too much sleep at a stretch may tend to stretch your blood vessels.

At Least 10 Die In Plunge Amid Homes

Big Sky Freighter Rains Fiery Death Upon Chicago Area

CHICAGO (AP) — A Super-H Constellation cargo plane, trying to return to Midway Airport on three of its four engines, crashed and exploded early Tuesday, spreading fiery death and terror throughout a sleeping residential area.

The big Trans World Airlines plane plowed through four homes and an apartment building, showering debris and flaming gasoline over an area of several blocks.

At least 10 persons were killed, including the plane's crew of three, 13 were injured and one person was reported missing.

The plane, out of control and its engines reported sputtering, was attempting an emergency landing at Midway, only minutes after a takeoff for Los Angeles.

No. 2 Engine Catches Fire

Pilot Claude W. Helwig, 40, a veteran of 14 years with the airline, was in radio contact with Midway's control tower after takeoff when suddenly he said:

"Uh, Midway tower, TWA five-nine-five (Helwig's plane). We just got a fire bell on No. 2. We're coming back in. We've shut it down."

This meant a signal on the instrument panel indicated the No. 2 engine was on fire and that the crew had shut the engine off. The burning engine was the one nearest the fuselage on the left side.

The man on duty in the tower told Helwig to take any runway he wanted. He offered to alert emergency ground equipment, but Helwig told him he could see the field and was coming in on Runway 31, the longest at Midway.

"No! no!" were the last words in the exchange, spoken by the men in the tower as the plane hit a rooftop in a populous Southwest Side neighborhood three blocks short of the field.

Dwellings Shattered

The plane, out of control and its engines sputtering, wheeled down from low overcast in light rain, three blocks short of its goal.

It struck the roof of a two story home, ripping off the chimney and shearing the tail off the craft. Then it spun across Knox avenue, shattered the northwest corner of a two-story brick home, and tore the roof away from a neighboring home.

Careening nearly a block farther, the plane tore out the back wall of a building housing six apartments, exploded and landed in a belching sea of flame atop a one-story dwelling across the street. The dwelling collapsed.

"It seemed like the end of the

Three Escaped Felons Nabbed

JACKSON, Ohio (UPI) — Ohio State Police Tuesday night captured three of five escaped convicts from North Carolina wanted for murdering their road gang foreman.

The trio was identified as Tommy Styles, 27, of Asheville, N. C., John Allen Henry, 23, of Miami, Fla., and George Brown, 29, of North Wilkesboro, N. C.

The men were heavily armed but were caught when three state policemen rushed them from two sides and caught them by surprise. The officers were summoned by a passing truck when he noticed the men in trouble on U. S. highway 35 about eight miles east of here. One of the convicts was in the back seat of the car.

Officers said the three admitted they were the convicts who escaped Monday morning from a work detail on a road in the Blue Ridge Mountains of North Carolina. When captured they were driving a car taken from William Dalton of Kegley, W. Va., Tuesday morning.

Dalton was preparing to burn trash in the back of his home when the three men jumped him. They were armed with a .30-30 caliber rifle, a .38 caliber revolver and a .30 caliber semi-automatic army carbine. The only other weapon taken during their escape near West Jefferson, N. C., was a second .38 caliber revolver.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) —An Atlas ICBM, destined for a major role in the U.S. man-into-space program, surged into the sky Tuesday on a flight over the Atlantic Ocean.

The shot was made one pad away from an Atlas-Able rocket being outfitted for an attempt to orbit the moon.

The gleaming missile coated its pad with liquid flame as it pushed away slowly at 2:48 p.m. e.s.t. Three engines generating 360,000 pounds of thrust—most powerful of all U.S. rockets—drove the Atlas nearly 500 miles above the sea.

Pilot Confident He Could Land Safely, Recording Reveals

That was the first warning the Midway Airport control tower received Tuesday of an impending crash of a cargo ship into a row of homes.

The transcript of conversation between Capt. Claude Helwig, piloting the huge TWA transport Flight 595, and Lloyd Harold, in the control tower was released by the Federal Aviation Agency. The text:

Tower: No! No!

The FAA said the "No! No!" exclamation came from Harold as he saw the cargo plane crash and burst into flames. There were several men working in the tower.

Boy Becomes Blind After Eye Removed

Eugene Foster, the father, learned he had tuberculosis and must enter a sanatorium.

Herter Terms Acheson Blast False Logic

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter Tuesday fired back at Dean Acheson, former Democratic secretary of state who has accused the Eisenhower administration of heading toward appeasement of the Soviet Union.

At a news conference, Herter said Acheson had no solid ground for assuming the administration will make one-sided concessions to the Soviet Union to ease the danger of war over Berlin's future.

Herter in effect charged Acheson with using false logic and meaningless phrases to back up Acheson's denunciations of any talks whatever about Berlin.

"It seemed to me that what Mr. Acheson had done was to build up a lot of straw men and knock them down," Herter said.

"His assumptions were that the Russians would be insisting still on the position they held a year ago last November when the crisis was precipitated. Actually they have come a very long way."

In a speech last Wednesday, Acheson described any East-West talks about Berlin's future at this time as an invitation for Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to cut the throat of the allies.

In rebuttal, Herter said the Soviets have abandoned threats in demanding a new Berlin arrangement. Further, Herter said, the Soviets have repeatedly acknowledged the legal right of the Western Allies to remain in West Berlin.

Herter also struck back at Acheson's claim that the Eisenhower administration has no foreign policy except "locomotion"—moving President Eisenhower around in visits to foreign countries.

This is a good phrase but it has no meaning, Herter said. The administration has "a very distinct foreign policy," he contended, with the main objectives clearly spelled out.

At Least 10 Die In Plunge Amid Homes

Big Sky Freighter Rains Fiery Death Upon Chicago Area

CHICAGO (AP) — A Super-H Constellation cargo plane, trying to return to Midway Airport on three of its four engines, crashed and exploded early Tuesday, spreading fiery death and terror throughout a sleeping residential area.

The big Trans World Airlines plane plowed through four homes and an apartment building, showering debris and flaming gasoline over an area of several blocks.

At least 10 persons were killed, including the plane's crew of three, 13 were injured and one person was reported missing.

The plane, out of control and its engines reported sputtering, was attempting an emergency landing at Midway, only minutes after a takeoff for Los Angeles.

No. 2 Engine Catches Fire

Pilot Claude W. Helwig, 40, a veteran of 14 years with the airline, was in radio contact with Midway's control tower after takeoff when suddenly he said:

"Uh, Midway tower, TWA five-nine-five (Helwig's plane). We just got a fire bell on No. 2. We're coming back in. We've shut it down."

This meant a signal on the instrument panel indicated the No. 2 engine was on fire and that the crew had shut the engine off. The burning engine was the one nearest the fuselage on the left side.

The man on duty in the tower told Helwig to take any runway he wanted. He offered to alert emergency ground equipment, but Helwig told him he could see the field and was coming in on Runway 31, the longest at Midway.

"No! no!" were the last words in the exchange, spoken by the men in the tower as the plane hit a rooftop in a populous Southwest Side neighborhood three blocks short of the field.

Dwellings Shattered

The plane, out of control and its engines sputtering, wheeled down from low overcast in light rain, three blocks short of its goal.

It struck the roof of a two story home, ripping off the chimney and shearing the tail off the craft. Then it spun across Knox avenue, shattered the northwest corner of a two-story brick home, and tore the roof away from a neighboring home.

Careening nearly a block farther, the plane tore out the back wall of a building housing six apartments, exploded and landed in a belching sea of flame atop a one-story dwelling across the street. The dwelling collapsed.

"It seemed like the end of the

Three Escaped Felons Nabbed

JACKSON, Ohio (UPI) — Ohio State Police Tuesday night captured three of five escaped convicts from North Carolina wanted for murdering their road gang foreman.

The trio was identified as Tommy Styles, 27, of Asheville, N. C., John Allen Henry, 23, of Miami, Fla., and George Brown, 29, of North Wilkesboro, N. C.

The men were heavily armed but were caught when three state policemen rushed them from two sides and caught them by surprise. The officers were summoned by a passing truck when he noticed the men in trouble on U. S. highway 35 about eight miles east of here. One of the convicts was in the back seat of the car.

Officers said the three admitted they were the convicts who escaped Monday morning from a work detail on a road in the Blue Ridge Mountains of North Carolina. When captured they were driving a car taken from William Dalton of Kegley, W. Va., Tuesday morning.

Dalton was preparing to burn trash in the back of his home when the three men jumped him. They were armed with a .30-.30 caliber rifle, a .38 caliber revolver and a .30 caliber semi-automatic army carbine. The only other weapon taken during their escape near West Jefferson, N. C., was a second .38 caliber revolver.

Steel Output Picking Up But Shortages Continue

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Commerce Department said Tuesday that, despite a rapid pickup in steel production, many industries must continue holding down output "until the renewed flow of steel reaches volume proportions."

The department did not indicate when it believes this will happen.

This comment on developments since the steel walkout was halted by court order on Nov. 7 was contained in a department summary of economic developments in October.

The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service prepared for efforts to resume negotiations in the steel dispute soon after Thanksgiving.

The mediation chief, Joseph F. Finnegan, planned to have his staff confer Wednesday with President Eisenhower's steel fact-finding board. Another meeting was arranged with Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell for later Wednesday.

The court order, which sent 500,000 steelworkers back to the mills after a 116-day walkout, expires on Jan. 26. In the absence of a prior agreement, the union will be free to strike again then unless workers vote to accept the latest offer.

The Commerce Department report said over-all economic activity last month changed little from September. It said losses caused by the steel strike were offset by advances elsewhere.

Personal income was higher than in August and September, the department noted, and a moderate decline in wage and salary payments was more than offset by increases in other types of income.

Clergymen, Teachers, Office Workers Candidates For 'Let-Down Headache'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Do you suffer a severe headache when you suddenly ease up after a stretch of tough work? There's a name for it — "let-down headache." Its most likely victims are clergymen, teachers and office workers.

This newly recognized ailment was described Tuesday by Dr. Lester Blumenthal of George Washington University, one of the nation's leading authorities on headaches.

He said ministers and priests may come up with such headaches on Monday mornings "when they let down after the week's tension of preparing for and delivering perhaps two sermons on Sunday, hearing confessions on Saturday, and so on."

Teachers, Blumenthal said, are vulnerable on Saturday morning "when they wake up and suddenly realize they don't have to face 40 young hyenas as they have all week."

Blumenthal said government workers in the nation's capital also are frequent sufferers.

He told about the phenomenon at a panel on headaches during the annual scientific assembly of the District of Columbia Medical Society and amplified later at a news conference.

Blumenthal said let-down headaches result from excessive stretching of blood vessels. For reasons still unknown, many people are physiologically constituted so that their vessels are likely to stretch excessively under emotional or physiological stress.

In the case of the let-down victims, Blumenthal said, they build up tension during the week. This causes certain body chemicals, including adrenalin, to keep the blood vessels and other tissues of the head in proper tone.

Then comes the let-down. With tensions removed, the blood vessels stretch, blood rushes through them faster — and headache results.

Folks who may have them can take heart.

Blumenthal says that in many cases they can be prevented by:

1. Pacing yourself during the week so you don't build up so much tension.
2. Learning your physiological and emotional limits—and remaining within them.
3. Sleeping with the head of your bed elevated.
4. Avoid constipation.
5. Getting up early or setting your alarm clock so you'll wake up in the night for a while. Too much sleep at a stretch may tend to stretch your blood vessels.

Touhy, Prohibition Era Mobster, Freed

Diminutive Roger Touhy, 61 and gray-haired, emerged smiling and affable from Stateville Penitentiary into a snowstorm and freedom.

"It's a beautiful day," the former Chicago gang leader remarked to newsmen as he brushed wet snow from his face.

Then, while news cameras recorded the scene, Touhy, nattily attired in a prison-made wardrobe, swept his wife, Clara, into his arms. Both sobbed as they exchanged affectionate greetings.

Also on hand to greet Touhy was his sister, Ethel Alesia of Chicago, with whom he plans to make his home temporarily. His two sons, Roger Jr., 34, and Tom, 32, were not present.

"It's a very nice feeling to get out of here after so long a time. I want to get as far away from here as possible," Touhy told newsmen.

His release from prison came 25 years and 9 months to the day that he was committed for the kidnaping of John (Jake the Barber) Factor, one-time confidence man.

Touhy has contended throughout his imprisonment the kidnaping was a hoax perpetrated by Factor. He sought to win his freedom through repeated court action, including several appeals to the U.S. Supreme Court, but always lost.

His freedom Tuesday came on parole.

"But I'm mad at nobody. I hold no grudges and I'm not seeking revenge. I'm leaving all that inside those walls. All I want now is peace and a chance to rest; to start a new life," he said.

Parole officials said Touhy will remain under parole for about three years.

TFC Requests $800,000 Hike In Its Budget

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The Tidewater Fisheries Commission proposed Tuesday that it be granted a whopping $800,000 in additional spending for fiscal 1961.

If granted, the requested hike in general funds would boost the department's spending program to $2,065,249. Most of it would be used to rehabilitate the state's oyster industry.

The TFC's request was released by the Budget Bureau in Baltimore.

Meanwhile, the TFC was meeting in Annapolis and among other business it announced plans to put its own "mosquito fleet" to work chasing mosquito fleets off the Potomac River.

For years the bigger, but slower, TFC patrol vessels have had trouble trying to chase down faster, smaller craft which are used to illegally dredge oysters in the river and then outrun law officers.

Such violators have operated from both the Virginia and Maryland sides of the river. Some of them have become known to enforcement officials as "mosquito fleets."

The TFC Tuesday approved plans to purchase smaller vessels to augment its present force on the Potomac.

Chairman H. C. Byrd said the small boats will be able to travel at speeds up to 35 miles per hour, compared to a present maximum of around 25 m. p. h. for most patrol boats, and will cost only $3,500 each compared to $20,000.

He said probably four to six will go into operation next year if sufficient funds are available. Others may be added later.

The TFC voted to begin standardizing the rest of its enforcement fleet with vessels around 38 feet long, compared to some which now range up to 46 feet.

Three old boats will be replaced next year with newer ones of smaller dimensions.

In other action at the meeting the commission authorized scientific survey of Potomac River oysters of sufficient quantity to permit use of patent (mechanical) tongs as opposed to hand tongs. The survey has been requested by a Legislative Council committee.

'Mixture' Blamed For 500 Students' Illness

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP)—A mixture of bus exhaust fumes, exertion and too many hot dogs were blamed Tuesday for the illness of 500 high school students here Monday night.

Thirty-seven were held in hospitals and an infirmary overnight, then released. A doctor said it appeared only a small amount of carbon monoxide gas was breathed by the students in Gallagher Hall at Oklahoma State University.

He said exertion, stuffiness of the hall which more than 8,400 persons occupied, plus too many hot dogs accounted for hysteria and illness. There were 5,431 students and 3,000 spectators in the hall.

The students became ill while winding up a choral festival. Outside, 200 buses' motors idled. Air intake fans apparently sucked in the exhaust fumes, said Welden Barnes, OSU public relations official.

world," several residents of the neighborhood said.

Burning gasoline showered adjoining homes, garages and parked cars, setting them afire. Terrified residents ran into the streets in night clothing.

One of the injured, George Mehalov, 57, didn't even know parts of the plane had hit his home until firemen told him while taking him to the hospital. Mehalov's wife and daughter are among the missing.

"I heard the explosion and saw the bedroom roof caving in," he said. "I don't know how I got out or what happened to my family," he sobbed.

Another area resident, George Binder, 30, said the sound of the plane's engines awakened him. He said the engines sputtered and died and then he heard a crash. There was an explosion and his bedroom was brightened by the reflection of flames through the windows.

The dead were:

Pilot Helwig, 40, Los Angeles; D. E. Waters, 36, Los Angeles, first officer; Aerion L. Auge Jr., 35, Los Angeles, flight engineer; and the following Chicagoans, DeLean Nichols, about 28, and his wife, Jo Anne, 21; Mrs. Gisella Petrisco and her son, Mark, 5; George Mehalov Jr., 18; his sister, Betty Ann, 16, and his mother, Elizabeth, 44.

Still missing more than 12 hours after the accident was Mrs. Dorothea Rak, 41, of Chicago.

The plane, carrying 18,492 pounds of nonflammable cargo including mail, arrived in Chicago from New York, after making a stop at Philadelphia.

Five Hurt As Jetliner Crashes On Landing

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—An Eastern Air Lines Electra jet crashed on landing Tuesday night. Five of the 35 persons aboard received minor injuries.

The plane, en route from Pittsburgh to Miami with a scheduled stop at St. Petersburg, slammed into the runway when its landing gear folded, an employe at the International Airport said.

Telephone and teletype cables to the Weather Bureau office were accidentally severed during work on a construction project.

Montgomery Teachers Do Not Seek Pay Boost

ROCKVILLE, Md. (AP)—Montgomery County teachers have informed county officials they favor an increase in salaries for school administrative personnel next year but no boost for teachers.

The Montgomery County Education Assn., representing 3,100 teachers, told the county Board of Education Monday night that administrative personnel in leadership positions deserve a pay increase.

It was estimated that if the recommended increase were applied to the 256 administrators, principals, supervisors and other non-teaching staff members in the county the total cost would be about $320,000 a year.

It was the first budget request submitted by the teacher group in recent years that did not lead off with a request for higher teacher salaries.

The school budget for the present year includes a three million dollar a year boost for teacher salaries. The increase made the salary scale for teachers in Montgomery County the highest in the Washington area.

When the present budget was adopted, however, a proposed boost for administrative personnel was cut in half.

Arthur D. Simonds Jr., executive secretary of the teacher organization, said Montgomery County teachers will not seek a salary increase in the new budget and will seek exclusion from any additional teacher pay aid that might be authorized by the Maryland General Assembly.

POLES APART — Mrs. Annie Jenkins, 24, climbed a utility pole in downtown Los Angeles during an argument with her husband. He and police were unable to get her down. A power company crew with a mobile elevator returned her to earth. She was taken to a hospital for examination.

Educator Killed In Auto Accident

WAYNESBORO, Pa. (AP)—Dr. H. Clifford Fox, president emeritus of Findlay College, Findlay, Ohio, died at Waynesboro Hospital Tuesday following an auto crash at nearby Greencastle.

State police said Fox was a passenger in a car driven by his wife, Viola. Her car and one driven by Ray E. Devault, 34, of Hagerstown, Md., sideswiped at the crest of a hill. They were going in opposite directions.

Mrs. Fox was in satisfactory condition at the hospital. She suffered cuts and shock. Devault was not injured.

Thanksgiving Dinner To Cost Less This Year

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Thanksgiving Day dinner, with turkey and all the trimmings, will cost less this year than it did in 1958 and only a bit more than it did five years ago, a union survey showed Tuesday.

The sampling, conducted by the Machinists' Union, covered prices charged by a local supermarket chain for turkey, cranberries, pumpkin, milk, eggs and other ingredients of the traditional Thanksgiving dinner.

Gordon Cole, editor of the union's weekly publication, the Machinist, said he believed the price trends were typical of other areas of the country.

The Agriculture Department was unable to confirm the union's specific figures but said food prices generally were below 1958 levels. It said this was particularly true of turkey.

—Eggs cost 69 cents a dozen, about 10 cents a dozen cheaper.

—The price of a five-pound bag of apples has dropped from 45 cents to 39 cents.

—Lettuce is a cent a head cheaper and the price of a quart of milk has decreased from 25 to 24 cents.

—The price of cranberries, canned pumpkin, and bread has not changed materially from last year.

Job Placements Down Slightly

BALTIMORE (AP) — The State Department of Employment Security placed fewer persons in non-farm jobs last month, but that situation is normal with the coming of cold weather, its director said Tuesday.

Robert B. Kimble said the department placed 4,545 in non-farm jobs in Maryland during October, down 14.4 per cent from the 5,306 in September and down 4 per cent from the 6,494 of October 1958.

But this decline followed the normal seasonal pattern as outdoor activities closed down and other seasonal employment such as food processing tapered off.

The steel strike is still casting a shadow over the employment picture, Kimble said, with most employers keeping a cautious hiring policy, and some laying off workers during October.

D.C. Area Dairy To Up Milk Price

WASHINGTON (AP) — The price of Chestnut Farms-Sealtest milk will go up a cent a quart on Monday.

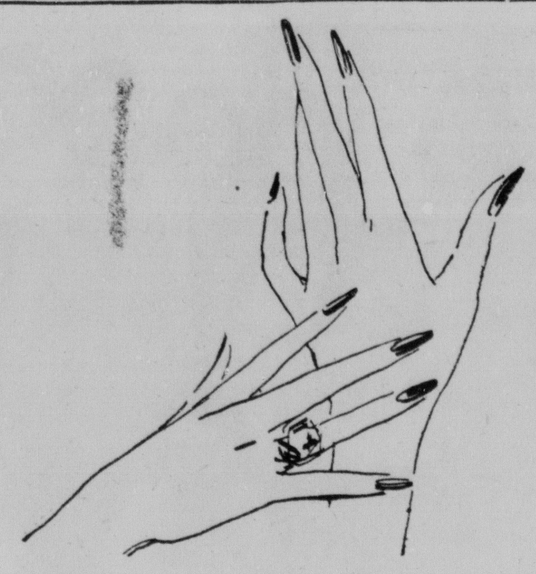

Edgar N. Brawner, general manager of the dairy, said regarding the announcement that "the margin between our cost of raw milk and our selling price of pasteurized milk has been so low that we have not been able to operate this business profitably."

He defined a reasonable profit as half a cent a quart.

The price boost will affect the retail price of milk bought in stores and delivered to homes. It will not affect cream or cottage cheese.

Sealtest is the largest dairy firm in the Washington area. There was no immediate indication whether other dairies in the area would follow sealtest's lead.

The mere inhaling of garlic will impart that garlic flavor to cow's milk, according to the Bureau of Dairy Industry of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Don't Let Broken Nails Get You Down!

Even the smallest flaw in grooming can disqualify otherwise lovely hands. But at the eleventh hour before an important occasion, what can be done to restore perfection to a lady's fingers, when she suddenly discovers a ragged, broken nail?

It's no trick at all if you keep a patch kit in your dressing table. It should contain a book of thin fabric especially made for this purpose, a box of "false" nails; a tube or bottle of transparent, waterproof cement; a thin-tipped orange stick. With these items in stock, you're ready and able to repair the damage. Here's how:

Remove the polish from the offending nail. Don't disturb the finish on your other nails; use a generous twist of cotton on the end of your orange stick to apply the remover. Dip the polish-freed nail in soapy water; rinse and dry. Make certain there is no residue of polish or cuticle on the nail.

If your nail is split or peeling, cover the entire surface and underside smoothly with cement. While it is drying, cut out a piece of patch that will amply cover the split. Just before the cement is dry, put the patch in place, being sure to fit it well under the outside edge of the split or peel. Flatten it down until there is no trace of a loose edge or ripple. Cover the entire nail again with another thin coat of cement and allow it to dry thoroughly.

Now, two coats of polish and a top coat should hold the nail together until you are ready for your next complete manicure. You can repeat this repair job at each subsequent manicure until the split or peel has grown out.

But if your nail has broken off to the quick, you will need to apply a false nail. Follow the directions on the box and you will avoid the discomforts and disfigurement involved until your own nail has grown out.

Don't be hesitant or self-conscious about false nails. Shaped and colored naturally to match your own, they are not only a comfort and a protection, but a modern beauty aid.

West Va. Loses 1,565 Teachers

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The West Virginia Education Assn. said Tuesday the state lost 1,565 teachers this year, most of them to Ohio, Pennsylvania, Maryland and Florida.

It said a primary reason was that the average salary in these states is $4,980 annually.

A State Education Department report said the highest salaries paid in West Virginia are in Hancock County. The salary for those holding a bachelors Degree in that county is between $4,130 and $5,430 and from $4,400 to $6,000 for those holding master's degrees.

The Education Department noted that 16 West Virginia counties are paying their teachers only the minimum salary.

It noted that the minimum salary range for teachers with BA degrees is $2,790 to $3,492 a year and $3,060 a year to $3,924 for those with a Master's degree.

Pensioner, 70, Wins $742,904 Jackpot

LONDON (AP) — A 70-year-old pensioner Tuesday won a world record $742,904 in the British soccer pool on an investment of two cents.

Arthur Webb of Scarborough took the individual record jackpot from last weekend's British soccer games. The money is tax free.

Four out of every five British families play the pools each week and try to correctly forecast eight tie matches. They get three points for a tie, two points for a winner away from home and 1½ for a home winner.

Cranberry Scare Distorted, ACS Leader Declares

BALTIMORE (AP) — You can go ahead and eat cranberries with that Thanksgiving turkey and not have any worries, says the president of the Maryland division of the American Cancer Society.

Dr. Frank H. J. Figge said that even if you ate sauce from the berries contaminated by a weed-killer, you wouldn't eat enough to cause cancer.

Dr. Figge said the government did right to clamp down on the growers who used the chemical on their crops, but he added the situation was publicized in such a way that the danger became distorted.

Pigs and sheep may live as long as 20 years.

Former Pastor Of SS. Peter, Paul Church Dies

Rev. Alban Hummel, OFM, Cap., 77, twice pastor of SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church, was found dead yesterday in his quarters at the Motherhouse of the Sisters of Divine Providence, Allison Park, Pittsburgh.

Father Alban was found seated in a chair in his chaplain's quarters by nuns who went to investigate after he failed to appear for their early morning mass.

He had been chaplain of the "Little Sisters of the Poor" in Pittsburgh for the past nine years, while being stationed at St. Augustine Monastery in that city.

Born in Obendorf, Bavaria, Germany, Father Hummel came to this country as a youth. He attended high school at St. Fidelis Seminary and continued his studies for the priesthood at Victoria, Kan., before coming to SS. Peter and Paul Monastery here for his theology.

Father Alban was ordained June 1, 1910, in Baltimore by the late James Cardinal Gibbons. His first assignment was as assistant pastor at SS. Peter and Paul's, where he remained until 1916 when he was sent to Kansas.

Returning here as pastor of SS. Peter and Paul in 1930, the present parish school was built during his three-year administration, during which he also celebrated his silver jubilee as a priest.

Father Alban then served as a missionary in Guam for a number of years before returning to an assignment at St. Alphonsus Church in Wheeling, W. Va. He was returned as pastor of SS. Peter and Paul's here in 1947, a post he held until going to Pittsburgh nine years ago.

Father Alban spent several days here a few weeks ago visiting friends he had made during his local assignments.

Scheduled to observe his golde jubilee as a priest next year, Father Alban had completed plans for the event. The plans included the celebration of his jubilee mass on June 1 in his native Obendorf.

The body will be exhibited in the chapel of St. Augustine Church, Pittsburgh, where a requiem mass will be celebrated Friday.

Battery Gets Commendation

KEYSER — Battery C of the First Howitzer Batallion of the 201st Artillery, was recently advised that the unit had been accorded a rating of "excellent" for operation and training during the fiscal year.

The battery, commanded by Captain H. E. Wilt of Westernport, Md., was judged on the basis of participation in weekly drills, week-end training programs, the annual two-week active duty encampment at Camp Breckenridge, Ky., and the annual inspection by the Inspector General's Corps, conducted at the local armory in September.

Col. Willis T. Smith of Second Army Headquarters who conducted the inspection, complimented the unit on its high morale and state of readiness. The certificate attesting to the rating is on display at the armory along with other trophies awarded the battery.

As a result of another inspection, a Command Inspection by the U. S. Property and Finance Office, the battery's maintenance officer, Lt. Curtis M. Rotruck, announced a rating of "excellent" for vehicle and equipment maintenance. The battery's motor sergeant, who is responsible for keeping the battery "rolling," is S/5 Merle W. Lambert.

Board Gets Road Request

A request for repairs to Jefferson Lane near Westernport was made yesterday at the meeting of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

William Martin and Frederick Martin said they had been doing repairs on the road themselves but needed more work done to place it in good condition.

They asked for shale to be spread by a bulldozer they have available. Commissioner John J. Rowan told the men that they should obtain rights of ways on the roadway so that it could be placed in the county system sometime next year.

Rowan explained that the county can not spend any county tax monies on road work. Money received as gasoline taxes by the county is the only source of revenue for road work.

Private Firm's Forest Plan Rejected

Water Commissioner G. Ray Light said yesterday the department has decided against entering into an agreement with a private firm for controlled cutting of timber in the city's watershed at Lake Gordon.

The plan for perpetual maintenance and management had been drawn up and presented to Light for consideration by Sanitary Engineer Franklin J. Blaney several months ago.

Light said, however, that after discussion with William H. Johnson, district forester, and others, it is the opinion that best interests of the city will be served if no such agreement is entered into wherein the city gives up control of its watershed for a 25-year period.

The Houseworth Lumber Company of Bedford would have been the second party to the lumber program.

Light said that instead of the proposed program, there is being considered a plan wherein two state forester, one from Maryland and the other from Pennsylvania, could divide the watershed into forest tracts of 300 to 500 acres. They would schedule cutting times for the various tracts and mark matured trees for cutting, Light said.

When trees are ready to cut, an advertisement for bids would be placed in local newspapers so that any lumberman interested could examine marked trees, return sealed bids in 30 days and the high bidder would get the contract, Light continued.

During the actual cutting, foresters would visit the scene monthly and personnel of the city weekly to see that only marked trees were being cut and operations conducted properly.

Light said after the cutting was finished, city forces would replant the area under recommendations given by the state foresters.

Light said he believed the city would receive a fair price for its timber under this plan and there would be no share basis or free pulpwood provisions involved.

It is also felt that when the city needs lumber, it could purchase on a cheaper and more efficient basis than on the share plan with which it has had experience.

Mining Company Forfeits Bond For Coal Stripping

The now defunct Deer Park strip mining company fined $10,000 recently in Federal Court in Baltimore for violations of the federal wage and hour law has defaulted on bonds covering the 36 acres the firm stripped.

Frank T. Powers, director of the Maryland Bureau of Mines, said yesterday the Schell Mining Company, Inc., of Deer Park, forfeited $3,600 it had posted according to the state strip mining law.

The firm had put up bond when the charge was only $100 an acre, but since that time it has been increased.

The state law requires the bond be forfeited if the company does not backfill the area it has stripped.

The old $100 fee was increased when the General Assembly deemed it not enough and too many operators found it cheaper to forfeit rather than backfill.

The Schell Mining Company was fined $10,000 by U. S. District Judge Roszel C. Thomsen for failing to pay proper overtime wages, falsification of records, failure to keep proper records and making illegal shipments across state lines.

C. David Houck, Kingwood, the firm's president-treasurer, was also fined $2,000, and Richard Trickett, its secretary, $1,000.

Houck, formerly of Mt. Savage, entered a guilty plea as did the company to its four charges.

Powers pointed out that the strip mining operation was located four miles south of Deer Park between that community and Gormania.

In 1958, the Schell Company, stripping 54,986 tons of Bakerstown seam and 61,282 tons of Freeport seam at the 36-acre spot, accounted for roughly one-sixth of the total strip coal tonnage produced in Garrett County.

The 126,268 tons made up more than one-third of the strip coal shipped from Garrett County last year.

Powers said the operation shut down about two months ago.

PPG Tax Case Appeal Reset For January 13

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners has been notified by the Maryland Tax Court that the appeal case of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company from the state real estate assessment on its plant here has been continued until January 13, 1960.

The appeal had originally been slated for December 2 at the Tax Court offices in Baltimore.

Members of the board pointed out that the appeal has no effect on the county tax program as the plant has a 10-year tax exemption. The assessment, which is made by the Allegany County Assessing Department, is only for state real estate taxes.

The county agency sets the assessment for all property in the county with the state taxes being collected by the Allegany County tax collector and then turned over to the state comptroller's office.

The assessment of $12,085,550 on the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant will bring in approximately $15,600 in taxes to the state.

Notification of the change in the hearing date was sent here by Edwin W. Low, clerk for the Maryland Tax Court.

Cross Suits Moved From Garrett County

Two damage suits resulting from a 1958 accident on Finzel Road were moved to Allegany County Circuit Court yesterday from Garrett County Circuit Court on order of Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley.

Frank Spataro of Eckhart, through Attorney Edward J. Ryan, filed a $500 damage suit in Garrett County March 30 against Roy Jenkins Jr. and Roy Jenkins Sr., Star Route, Frostburg. Spataro charged that while driving along the Finzel Road toward National Highway on or about February 28, 1958, his car was struck by the Jenkins car, owned by the elder Jenkins and driven by his son, when the defendant made a left turn onto a private road.

Roy Jenkins Sr. in turn filed a cross claim for $1,000 April 23 charging that Spataro was driving recklessly. The case was moved here when W. Earle Cobey, attorney for the Jenkins father and son, suggested that they could not get a fair trial in Garrett County. Judge Fraley then signed the removal order.

Private Firm's Forest Plan Rejected

Water Commissioner G. Ray Light said yesterday the department has decided against entering into an agreement with a private firm for controlled cutting of timber in the city's watershed at Lake Gordon.

The plan for perpetual maintenance and management had been drawn up and presented to Light for consideration by Sanitary Engineer Franklin J. Blaney several months ago.

Light said, however, that after discussion with William H. Johnson, district forester, and others, it is the opinion that best interests of the city will be served if no such agreement is entered into wherein the city gives up control of its watershed for a 25-year period.

The Houseworth Lumber Company of Bedford would have been the second party to the lumber program.

Light said that instead of the proposed program, there is being considered a plan wherein two state forester, one from Maryland and the other from Pennsylvania, could divide the watershed into forest tracts of 300 to 500 acres. They would schedule cutting times for the various tracts and mark matured trees for cutting, Light said.

When trees are ready to cut, an advertisement for bids would be placed in local newspapers so that any lumberman interested could examine marked trees, return sealed bids in 30 days and the high bidder would get the contract, Light continued.

During the actual cutting, foresters would visit the scene monthly and personnel of the city weekly to see that only marked trees were being cut and operations conducted properly.

Light said after the cutting was finished, city forces would replant the area under recommendations given by the state foresters.

Light said he believed the city would receive a fair price for its timber under this plan and there would be no share basis or free pulpwood provisions involved.

It is also felt that when the city needs lumber, it could purchase on a cheaper and more efficient basis than on the share plan with which it has had experience.

Mining Company Forfeits Bond For Coal Stripping

The now defunct Deer Park strip mining company fined $10,000 recently in Federal Court in Baltimore for violations of the federal wage and hour law has defaulted on bonds covering the 36 acres the firm stripped.

Frank T. Powers, director of the Maryland Bureau of Mines, said yesterday the Schell Mining Company, Inc., of Deer Park, forfeited $3,600 it had posted according to the state strip mining law.

The firm had put up bond when the charge was only $100 an acre, but since that time it has been increased.

The state law requires the bond be forfeited if the company does not backfill the area it has stripped.

The old $100 fee was increased when the General Assembly deemed it not enough and too many operators found it cheaper to forfeit rather than backfill.

The Schell Mining Company was fined $10,000 by U. S. District Judge Roszel C. Thomsen for failing to pay proper overtime wages, falsification of records, failure to keep proper records and making illegal shipments across state lines.

C. David Houck, Kingwood, the firm's president-treasurer, was also fined $2,000, and Richard Trickett, its secretary, $1,000.

Houck, formerly of Mt. Savage, entered a guilty plea as did the company to its four charges.

Powers pointed out that the strip mining operation was located four miles south of Deer Park between that community and Gormania.

In 1958, the Schell Company, stripping 54,986 tons of Bakerstown seam and 61,282 tons of Freeport seam at the 36-acre spot, accounted for roughly one-sixth of the total strip coal tonnage produced in Garrett County.

The 126,268 tons made up more than one-third of the strip coal shipped from Garrett County last year.

Powers said the operation shut down about two months ago.

Education And Loyalty Oaths

Yale and Harvard universities, in withdrawing from the federal student loan program in protest against the loyalty affidavit required of loan applicants, are following a path blazed by other institutions, most of them smaller. Bryn Mawr, Haverford, Princeton, and Swarthmore refused last year to participate in the program.

In the spring of 1959 five more colleges—Amherst, Antioch, Goucher, Reed, and Wilmington—returned their federal loan funds. Protests have been lodged by Bates, Bennington, Bowdoin, Colby, Grinnell, St. Johns, and Sarah Lawrence.

The disputed loyalty-oath requirement was adopted by Congress without debate as an amendment to the bill which became the National Defense Education Act of 1958. It provides that a loan applicant must swear "that he does not believe in, and is not a member of and does not support any organization that believes in or teaches the overthrow of the United States government by force or violence or by any illegal or unconstitutional methods."

Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare Arthur S. Fleming last December 15 said the requirement would do little or no good, inasmuch as real subversives "have no scruples about signing such an affidavit and taking such an oath." On similar grounds—and that the oath itself is an "affront" to needy students—opposition has been registered by the American Council on Education, the Association of American Colleges, and the American Association of University Professors.

But an amendment by Senator John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) that would have removed the oath requirement was sent back to committee last July 23 by a 49-42 roll-call vote of the Senate after two days of heated debate and parliamentary maneuvering.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Television Scandal

It is always fascinating to get the other fellow's point of view and I got it plentifully in the case of Charles Van Doren. Letters poured in. The gist of the letters is that I had written absolving Van Doren of all sins, misdemeanors, felonies, etc., and that therefore I, too, am wicked. Occasionally, one recalled that I had written that I thought the punishment should fit the crime and that the punishment should include all who are guilty of a vile hoax.

Most who wrote disagreed with me. But the reasons for disagreeing were varied. They ran in two schools:

1. That Van Doren is guilty of perjury;
2. That as he is more educated than the managers of his network, the heads of the sponsoring companies, the advertising agencies, etc., etc., he is more guilty than the others.

Regardnig Point One, neither my readers nor I know anything about the alleged perjury. A Grand Jury handed down a presentment. The foreman of the Grand Jury was a distinguished gentleman, Louis Hacker, who had been Dean of the School of General Studies at Columbia University. Judge Mitchell D. Schweitzer took the unusual and not understandable step of suppressing the presentment so that it was not made public and to this day, exactly what was said is a well-kept secret. That presentment should be made public or Judge Schweitzer should give a satisfactory explanation for its suppression.

There was no indictment of any kind. The District Attorney of New York County, Frank S. Hogan, has served in that office 17 years and has never been accused of malfeasance. He has not prosecuted Charles Van Doren for perjury. It is therefore incorrect to accuse Charles Van Doren of perjury because the misdemeanor has not been established in a court of law before a jury of his peers.

Perjury is the "wilful and corrupt taking of a false oath with regard to a material matter in a judicial proceeding." In some states, all false swearing is perjury. However, under our system of jurisprudence no man is guilty of an offense unless and until he is proved to be so by due process of the law. Even a confession does not make a person guilty, for he may confess to an offense to hide the guilt of another or he may be psychotic and glory in the publicity about his own evil nature.

Point Two, now there can no longer be any question but that there has been considerable and nasty cheating on the television quiz programs. That has been established beyond doubt.

But who did the cheating? Who is really responsible? Who benefited most by the cheating? The questions have not been answered and probably will never be, because it is always someone down the line who is hired to take the blame. He is like a Sitz-Redakteur in a revolutionary country—an editor who is to go to jail when somebody must be arrested for publishing an article which the government in power does not like. Usually such a "sit-editor," to translate the term, is not an editor at all. When he is not in jail, he does nothing.

Too many men now proclaim their innocence of a hoax that was general in the business. It is impossible, unbelievable, not acceptable that they did not know what was happening in properties worth millions of dollars. It is unbelievable that men occupying such exalted positions, who must know their way around, did not know what other men were doing with their money and their property to say nothing of their sacred honor.

Therefore, I wrote and still maintain that public opinion has been too rough on Charles Van Doren and too lenient on all the other persons involved in this hoax.

Crooked is crooked and foul is foul. But the giver is as bad as the taker; the hirer for a murder is as evil as the murdered. Why make distinctions where none exist in the nature of things? Before these investigations are over, television will undoubtedly become lily pure for a while until tricky minds find another gimmick to amuse those who like to watch television when it is interesting and exciting. The public may tire of Westerns and murders and television will have to come up with something, it already having failed at humor.

I wonder how many of those who want Charles Van Doren to be stoned, cheat about their income taxes. It would be interesting to know.

Truman Might Have Taken Trip With Ike If He'd Been Invited

By Drew Pearson

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. — I have a strong hunch that Harry Truman would have taken that 11-country trip with President Eisenhower if he had been invited.

I asked him the question point-blank when I saw him in his library in which are housed the papers and mementos of the postwar period which Mr. Truman molded.

"I haven't heard a thing about it," he said in reply to my question.

"I don't suppose you'd go," I suggested.

"You never can tell what you'll do when the president of the United States asks you to do something."

He said this with such emphasis that, remembering the many times Truman, when President and since, has harped on the obligation of all citizens to cooperate with whoever is President, I had the feeling Harry would have gone along—if asked.

If so, it would have made a more spectacular team than that of Bulganin and Khrushchev when they toured India, Burma, and the Middle East laying wreaths, collecting bouquets, and spreading Communist propaganda.

Truman was busy when I arrived, working with David Noyes and Bill Hillman on the compilation of his papers.

"These two boys worked with the War Production Board," he explained, "and the full story of what it did in the war has never been told. It was a great era in our history. I have thousands of papers dealing with its work and we're trying to get them in shape to tell the story."

Military Men's Mistakes

I suggested that possibly a defense system under civilian leadership was what the country needed today in order to save money on defense contracts.

"There's one trouble with military men," said Mr. Truman, who has never forgotten a military man named MacArthur whom he fired, and has sometimes disagreed with a military man who succeeded him in the White House. "They're like horses with blinders on. They can only see straight ahead.

"I don't know why, because we've turned out some great minds at West Point and Annapolis," he continued. "But when it comes to civilian problems, the military mind simply can't make decisions.

"Some of our worst mistakes have been made by military men."

Truman went back into history to enumerate the mistakes of President Zachary Taylor and other pre-Civil War Presidents which led to the Civil War. He did not touch on current decisions by military men.

Sen. Jack Kennedy of Massachusetts was due to see Mr. Truman that morning so I asked him who he favored as the Democratic nominee for President. I didn't really expect to get an answer.

"I'm not saying anything about whom we should pick," he said. "Except that we've got to pick a man who can make decisions. I don't know who he'll be. But I'll be at the convention next summer to help pick him, and I hope the right man will be there too."

At this point Senator Kennedy walked in.

Kennedy vs. Humphrey

In Kansas, where Senators Kennedy and Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota have been pounding the hustings drumming up delegates, it looks as if Humphrey definitely has the edge. Kennedy gets the big press notices, has enthusiastic claques of teen-agers out to meet him, travels in his private twin-engine Convair with desk and sleeping quarters.

But Humphrey, who carries his own suitcase and catches commercial planes, is penetrating much deeper politically. This is generally true all over the Midwest.

In Nebraska, Kennedy caravans toured the countryside in advance of his Omaha rally, drumming up customers for his tea, outdoor barbecue and speech. Afterward, the bill was handed over to the Kennedy family.

In Wisconsin, a small army of teen-agers met Kennedy at the airport recently, whooping it up for the young candidate from Massachusetts. Later it leaked out that Kennedy forces had purchased 500 tickets for the Democratic dinner at which Kennedy spoke. They were distributed to teen-agers for their parents.

For a long time it's been reported that the elder Kennedy, one of the 75 wealthiest men in America, had spent well over a million cultivatnig the political soil for the handsome, likable son whom he wants to make President. Concrete examples of this expenditure are now coming to the surface in the Midwest. Gradually also word of this is percolating to the public.

Kennedy has great charm, a warm personality. Everyone likes him. But in the Middle West where the rich political soil is capable of growing heavy crops, the boyish Senator from Massachusetts is not taking root. You have the feeling that Jack started too early and is going to trail badly in the final race.

Merry-Go-Round

Real reason Truman and Eisenhower, once great friends, came to the parting of the ways, was Truman's criticism of Ike in 1952 for failing to fix a corridor to Berlin. He pointed out that Eisenhower, then commander in Germany, had been given the job of safeguarding Berlin and failed to get an agreement from the Russians for Allied access to the city. This continues to be one of the basic German problems and is one reason why Khrushchev can now threaten to shut the Allies off from the city . . . . Ike never forgave Truman for this speech . . . . . Senators Kennedy and Humphrey, both speaking at the Wisconsin Democratic Convention this month, had a chance to show how each is running. Kennedy went over well, but Humphrey really set the crowd on fire . . . . . Humphrey, addressing the Young Democrats in Toledo, had Arkansas Young Democrats come up and congratulate him when he talked about civil rights. He had said: "Civil rights is not only morally right, it's politically sound. There are more colored people in the world. And the Russians have learned how to spell power. They spell it P-E-O-P-L-E."

Differing Attitudes About Student Loan Law

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Congress has appropriated $31,000,000 a year under the National Defense Act for loans to needy students for their education provided they sign an anti-Communist affidavit in supplement to an oath of allegiance to uphold the government of the United States. But 12 universities and colleges, out of 1,370 institutions which have been participating in the program, now refuse to continue under it. They declare that the anti-Communist stipulation raises unnecessarily a suspicion of disloyalty.

The colleges are required by law to provide only one dollar of their own funds for every nine dollars furnished by the federal government for student loans, but the educational institutions say nevertheless that they are obliged to act as trustees or agents of the government in allocating the money.

Most of the institutions which have declined to cooperate in the program can finance needy students in other ways. John F. Morse, administrator of the loan fund in the Office of Education here, says:

"This act was passed for the benefit of needy students, not for the institutions. Wealthy institutions may well provide these benefits from other sources, but there are a number of institutions which, if they were to take the stand Harvard, Yale and others have taken, would literally force students out of college."

Some of the college executives say they don't object to the taking of the oath of allegiance by the students, but they do not want to see an anti-Communist affidavit included. They argue that it is unnecessary and singles the students out as a class. To this, several Senators reply that to take the oath and refuse to sign the anti-Communist affidavit is a contradiction. Senator Bridges, Republican, of New Hampshire, for instance, says the students should deem it an honor to sign the document in question.

The net result may be the passage by the next session of Congress of a different law which in some respects will be stiffer. Amendments have been offered by Senator Russell of Georgia, Democrat, and Senator Mundt of South Dakota, Republican, which would repeal the existing provision and substitute language that would make it a felony hereafter for anyone to accept a loan under the program and then participate in Communist organizations or advocate the overthrow of our government by illegal means. This section of the proposed law would be ordered printed on every loan application form furnished to any student. He would, in addition, be required to take the same oath of allegiance which is prescribed for members of the armed forces, for members of Congress and for employes of the federal government generally. As one Senator pointed out, the students enrolled in the Reserve Officers Training Corps in the colleges have always had to take a loyalty oath.

The temper of the majority in the Senate was reflected in the debate last summer over the proposed repeal of the "loyalty" section of the student-loan program, which motion was defeated by a 49-to-42 vote. Senator Dirksen of Illinois, Republican leader, said:

"What about the boys who are training at Colorado Springs (Air Force Academy)? . . . What about the boys at West Point? They held up their hands. They do not seem to mind doing it; the taking of the oath did not seem to bother them at all."

Senator Russell, chairman of the Armed Services Committee, said:

"We are getting into a queer state of affairs in this country when we cannot mention Communism in connection with our colleges. I yield to no man in my respect for those who devote their lives to the administration of our great educational institutions. But in most instances they are far removed from the harsh realities of life. I shall not abandon my responsibility to undertake to protect the Treasury of the United States from Communist infiltrators merely because I am told that it is an insult to thousands of young men in this country who seek financial help from the government to go to college, to ask them to say that they are not Communists, or to ask them to take an oath to support and defend the Constitution of the United States."

Senator Johnston of South Carolina, Democrat, said:

"In the Subcommittee on Internal Security, we have found a pattern. The Communists use the students within the college to further their purpose . . .

"If we let one such person into a college . . . he will be protected to a certain extent because the student body will say that he is attending the college because of payments he is receiving from the government of the United States, and that tends to turn suspicion away from that individual. That is one reason I want to throw all the protections possible around those whom we assist as students in the colleges of the United States."

To the argument that Communists lie anyhow and hence the oath is superfluous or ineffectual, many Senators have replied by referring to the case of Alger Hiss. Because of technicalities, he couldn't be prosecuted for Communist associations under then existing laws, but was jailed for perjury because he lied under oath to a Congressional committee.

RATING SYSTEMS — At least one congressman believes that the television program rating systems are at the root of the TV "rigging" scandals, and he's out to do something about it.

Ratings are arrived at by several companies who check the estimated number of persons watching specific shows at specific times. The purpose of rigging the quiz shows, according to testimony before the House committee on legislative oversight, was to improve the shows' competitive ratings and thereby the breadth of its advertising appeal.

Rep. Frank Kowalski, Connecticut Democrat, is preparing legislation to control and license these rating companies. He questions how a company can determine the viewing habits of 40 million people by making 1,000 telephone calls.

Kowalski wants the government to examine rating methods to make sure they are scientifically accurate and to license only those companies which adhere to correct procedures.

Further, the former army colonel and West Point graduate wants the government to examine whether the rating systems make any sense at all. He implies the systems should be banned if they cannot demonstrate their real worth.

Kowalski will have some strong support for his proposal if and when it comes up for consideration in Congress. A large segment of the television and radio industry has felt for a long time that the rating companies are the real tyrants that run their business by influencing their sponsors to take on or cancel shows purely on the basis of their mass acceptance.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

The face of history is scarred with gigantic blunders. The brilliant Caesars, the pompous little Napoleons, the hysterical Hitlers, have all contributed to the chain of human error. Often, I have wondered what the German High Command was thinking in the first week of June, 1944, when they permitted Eisenhower to send thousands of ships across the English Channel to land an army and defeat them.

The Germans could have smashed it at any time between May 15th and June 3rd. The freighters, the landing ships, the tugs, the barges, the destroyers were all in ports between Plymouth and Hastings. One big fire bomb attack by the Luftwaffe would have set D-Day back six months. Hitler didn't order it. Gerd von Rundstedt, Commander in the West, didn't request it. Erwin Rommel, commander of coast defenses in France, didn't think Eisenhower was ready.

What happened to all the high-powered brains? Until now, no one knew. Simon and Schuster has just published a book called "The Longest Day." It is written by Cornelius Ryan and it leans heavily on the technique of telling a story minute-by-minute. Mr. Ryan writes so intimately of all the great generals and so many of the G.I.'s in the boats that he recreates D-Day with mastery. To my way of thinking, it is the most fascinating of the World War II books.

Thirty hours before the D-Day landings on June 6th, 1944, Field Marshal Erwin Rommel went home to visit his wife Maria. Before dawn, he and his aide, Captain Hellmuth Lang, rode through La Roche-Guyon en route to Germany. Rommel left an order on his desk to the German 7th and 15th Armies: "Every possible effort must be made to complete obstacles so as to make a low-tide landing possible only at extreme cost to the enemy. . . . Work must be pushed forward. . . . completion to be reported to my headquarters by June 20th."

Adolf Hitler was at Berchtesgaden sleeping when the first 18,000 paratroopers floated down out of the night sky over France. No one awakened him. He and Rommel were certain that the Russian offensive would open in the last week of June, and the Allies would attempt to land in France at the same time. Both were certain that the landing would be in the Pas de Calais area.

No one in the German hierarchy considered the Cherbourg peninsula as an invasion point. The Allies, they reasoned, might create a diversionary landing there, but the real thing would be near Calais, far to the east. In the Cherbourg area, the Germans kept battle-fatigued divisions, some of which were laced with Russian "volunteers."

The High Command did not think of trying to stop Eisenhower's forces before they left England. Rommel and some of the others kept talking about the big battle on the first day of the landings as though it was simpler to push the Allies back into the sea than to sink the ships bringing them to France.

On June 5th, the day before the invasion, the German staff ordered many of their generals to Rennes for war games. General Erich Marcks was preparing to lecture the divisional commanders, with big maps, on what to do in case the Allies landed in the Cherbourg area. He was still studying the maps when he received an urgent phone call from Gen. Wilhelm Richter, who shouted: "Parachutists have landed east of the Orne . . ."

The time was 2:11 a. m. of June 6th. Reports began to fly back and forth between generals on leave and generals playing at war games. Von Rundstedt's headquarters spoke for all of them when it signalled: "Operations OB West holds that this is not a large-scale airborne operation . . ."

Admiral Kranke, German naval commander, was in Bordeaux. Gen. von Schlieben was sleeping in a hotel room. General Wilhelm Falley, commanding one of the divisions at Cherbourg, couldn't be found. Lt.-Col. Priller of the 26th fighter wing, tumbled out of bed to answer an urgent call. "Priller," the voice said, "it seems some sort of an invasion is taking place. I suggest you put your wing on the alert."

Priller blew up. He reminded his boss that his 124 planes had been removed from the area only yesterday.

At dawn, Major Werner Pluskat stared out of a concrete beach bunker at the English Channel. He did this every morning and saw nothing but an empty sea. This time, in the mist, he saw ships, hundreds of ships of all sizes, sailing toward his eyeballs.

He shut his eyes and murmured: "This is the end for Germany" . . .

What Happens In An Epileptic Attack

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

An attack of epilepsy is easy to recognize, especially when the victim has a convulsion or a blackout. But a physician rarely is present when the attack occurs and must get his information second hand, usually via a bystander or member of the family. The epileptic is of no help in describing the incident because he loses consciousness and does not know what happened.

The physician must rely upon the description of the seizure to make the diagnosis. The physical examination does not offer any help and the only laboratory test that may give a clew is the electroencephalogram which records the brain waves.

The epileptic convulsion usually is preceded by a warning (aural) in which the victim sees stars, loses his hearing, or hears peculiar sounds. Others tremble or develop nausea or dizziness. A moment later everything goes black as he cries out and slumps to the floor. The muscles of the body stiffen for a few moments and then the jerking movements of the convulsions begin in earnest.

Many lose control of the bladder at this time and injuries may occur as the individual thrashes about. The tongue is bitten so often that one of the first duties of a bystander is to insert a clothespin, piece of wood, or even a spoon between the teeth. Other than protecting the victim from injury, nothing need be done. When the individual comes to, be sympatehtic and offer to help get him home.

The minor epileptic attack leads to momentary loss of consciousness, which is described as a blackout. A third type of epilepsy is the psychomotor seizure during which time the individual behaves in a bizarre way; instead of a convulsion a temper tantrum occurs or the mind becomes clouded.

The family can help considerably by cooperating in all ways. More than 80 per cent can be relieved with medication today.

Not to my knowledge. In some countries, the majority of the people are blond. They intermarry and their offspring live as long as anyone else and do not suffer from inherited imperfections because of their hair coloring.

No, except that laxative foods should be avoided. A special diet may be needed in treating the condition for which the colostomy (artificial opening of the colon through the abdominal wall) was done.

There is no reason to feel bloated after taking a glass of water unless you are allergic to the chemicals in the water or you swallow air as you drink.

Try And Stop Me

A man with an oversized head came to a haberdashery for a new hat, but complained that a 7⅞—the largest size in stock — was too small for him. The owner of the shop wouldn't accept this decision. He clapped the tight lid back on the man's head, and pulled it down hard with both hands until the customer shrieked with pain.

"There!" exclaimed the owner with satisfaction. "Now you've got a size 8!"

A mother warned her 10-year-old daughter, "From now on you'll be fined a dime for each morning you forget to make your bed." Next day the mother discovered the bed still unmade—and this note propped on the pillow: "Dear Ma: Sorry I didn't make the bed, but at these rates I can afford maid service. Love, Doris."

Education And Loyalty Oaths

Yale and Harvard universities, in withdrawing from the federal student loan program in protest against the loyalty affidavit required of loan applicants, are following a path blazed by other institutions, most of them smaller. Bryn Mawr, Haverford, Princeton, and Swarthmore refused last year to participate in the program.

In the spring of 1959 five more colleges—Amherst, Antioch, Goucher, Reed, and Wilmington—returned their federal loan funds. Protests have been lodged by Bates, Bennington, Bowdoin, Colby, Grinnell, St. Johns, and Sarah Lawrence.

The disputed loyalty-oath requirement was adopted by Congress without debate as an amendment to the bill which became the National Defense Education Act of 1958. It provides that a loan applicant must swear "that he does not believe in, and is not a member of and does not support any organization that believes in or teaches the overthrow of the United States government by force or violence or by any illegal or unconstitutional methods."

Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare Arthur S. Fleming last December 15 said the requirement would do little or no good, inasmuch as real subversives "have no scruples about signing such an affidavit and taking such an oath." On similar grounds—and that the oath itself is an "affront" to needy students—opposition has been registered by the American Council on Education, the Association of American Colleges, and the American Association of University Professors.

But an amendment by Senator John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) that would have removed the oath requirement was sent back to committee last July 23 by a 49-42 roll-call vote of the Senate after two days of heated debate and parliamentary maneuvering.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Television Scandal

It is always fascinating to get the other fellow's point of view and I got it plentifully in the case of Charles Van Doren. Letters poured in. The gist of the letters is that I had written absolving Van Doren of all sins, misdemeanors, felonies, etc., and that therefore I, too, am wicked. Occasionally, one recalled that I had written that I thought the punishment should fit the crime and that the punishment should include all who are guilty of a vile hoax.

Most who wrote disagreed with me. But the reasons for disagreeing were varied. They ran in two schools:

1. That Van Doren is guilty of perjury;
2. That as he is more educated than the managers of his network, the heads of the sponsoring companies, the advertising agencies, etc., etc., he is more guilty than the others.

Regardnig Point One, neither my readers nor I know anything about the alleged perjury. A Grand Jury handed down a presentment. The foreman of the Grand Jury was a distinguished gentleman, Louis Hacker, who had been Dean of the School of General Studies at Columbia University. Judge Mitchell D. Schweitzer took the unusual and not understandable step of suppressing the presentment so that it was not made public and to this day, exactly what was said is a well-kept secret. That presentment should be made public or Judge Schweitzer should give a satisfactory explanation for its suppression.

There was no indictment of any kind. The District Attorney of New York County, Frank S. Hogan, has served in that office 17 years and has never been accused of malfeasance. He has not prosecuted Charles Van Doren for perjury. It is therefore incorrect to accuse Charles Van Doren of perjury because the misdemeanor has not been established in a court of law before a jury of his peers.

Perjury is the "wilful and corrupt taking of a false oath with regard to a material matter in a judicial proceeding." In some states, all false swearing is perjury. However, under our system of jurisprudence no man is guilty of an offense unless and until he is proved to be so by due process of the law. Even a confession does not make a person guilty, for he may confess to an offense to hide the guilt of another or he may be psychotic and glory in the publicity about his own evil nature.

Point Two, now there can no longer be any question but that there has been considerable and nasty cheating on the television quiz programs. That has been established beyond doubt.

But who did the cheating? Who is really responsible? Who benefited most by the cheating? The questions have not been answered and probably will never be, because it is always someone down the line who is hired to take the blame. He is like a Sitz-Redakteur in a revolutionary country—an editor who is to go to jail when somebody must be arrested for publishing an article which the government in power does not like. Usually such a "sit-editor," to translate the term, is not an editor at all. When he is not in jail, he does nothing.

Too many men now proclaim their innocence of a hoax that was general in the business. It is impossible, unbelievable, not acceptable that they did not know what was happening in properties worth millions of dollars. It is unbelievable that men occupying such exalted positions, who must know their way around, did not know what other men were doing with their money and their property to say nothing of their sacred honor.

Therefore, I wrote and still maintain that public opinion has been too rough on Charles Van Doren and too lenient on all the other persons involved in this hoax.

Crooked is crooked and foul is foul. But the giver is as bad as the taker; the hirer for a murder is as evil as the murdered. Why make distinctions where none exist in the nature of things? Before these investigations are over, television will undoubtedly become lily pure for a while until tricky minds find another gimmick to amuse those who like to watch television when it is interesting and exciting. The public may tire of Westerns and murders and television will have to come up with something, it already having failed at humor.

I wonder how many of those who want Charles Van Doren to be stoned, cheat about their income taxes. It would be interesting to know.

Feet Of Clay

Truman Might Have Taken Trip With Ike If He'd Been Invited

By Drew Pearson

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. — I have a strong hunch that Harry Truman would have taken that 11-country trip with President Eisenhower if he had been invited.

I asked him the question point-blank when I saw him in his library in which are housed the papers and mementos of the postwar period which Mr. Truman molded.

"I haven't heard a thing about it," he said in reply to my question.

"I don't suppose you'd go," I suggested.

"You never can tell what you'll do when the president of the United States asks you to do something."

He said this with such emphasis that, remembering the many times Truman, when President and since, has harped on the obligation of all citizens to cooperate with whoever is President, I had the feeling Harry would have gone along—if asked.

If so, it would have made a more spectacular team than that of Bulganin and Khrushchev when they toured India, Burma, and the Middle East laying wreaths, collecting bouquets, and spreading Communist propaganda.

Truman was busy when I arrived, working with David Noyes and Bill Hillman on the compilation of his papers.

"These two boys worked with the War Production Board," he explained, "and the full story of what it did in the war has never been told. It was a great era in our history. I have thousands of papers dealing with its work and we're trying to get them in shape to tell the story."

Military Men's Mistakes

I suggested that possibly a defense system under civilian leadership was what the country needed today in order to save money on defense contracts.

"There's one trouble with military men," said Mr. Truman, who has never forgotten a military man named MacArthur whom he fired, and has sometimes disagreed with a military man who succeeded him in the White House. "They're like horses with blinders on. They can only see straight ahead.

"I don't know why, because we've turned out some great minds at West Point and Annapolis," he continued. "But when it comes to civilian problems, the military mind simply can't make decisions.

"Some of our worst mistakes have been made by military men."

Truman went back into history to enumerate the mistakes of President Zachary Taylor and other pre-Civil War Presidents which led to the Civil War. He did not touch on current decisions by military men.

Sen. Jack Kennedy of Massachusetts was due to see Mr. Truman that morning so I asked him who he favored as the Democratic nominee for President. I didn't really expect to get an answer.

"I'm not saying anything about whom we should pick," he said. "Except that we've got to pick a man who can make decisions. I don't know who he'll be. But I'll be at the convention next summer to help pick him, and I hope the right man will be there too."

At this point Senator Kennedy walked in.

Kennedy vs. Humphrey

In Kansas, where Senators Kennedy and Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota have been pounding the hustings drumming up delegates, it looks as if Humphrey definitely has the edge. Kennedy gets the big press notices, has enthusiastic claques of teen-agers out to meet him, travels in his private twin-engine Convair with desk and sleeping quarters.

But Humphrey, who carries his own suitcase and catches commercial planes, is penetrating much deeper politically. This is generally true all over the Midwest.

In Nebraska, Kennedy caravans toured the countryside in advance of his Omaha rally, drumming up customers for his tea, outdoor barbecue and speech. Afterward, the bill was handed over to the Kennedy family.

In Wisconsin, a small army of teen-agers met Kennedy at the airport recently, whooping it up for the young candidate from Massachusetts. Later it leaked out that Kennedy forces had purchased 500 tickets for the Democratic dinner at which Kennedy spoke. They were distributed to teen-agers for their parents.

For a long time it's been reported that the elder Kennedy, one of the 75 wealthiest men in America, had spent well over a million cultivatnig the political soil for the handsome, likable son whom he wants to make President. Concrete examples of this expenditure are now coming to the surface in the Midwest. Gradually also word of this is percolating to the public.

Kennedy has great charm, a warm personality. Everyone likes him. But in the Middle West where the rich political soil is capable of growing heavy crops, the boyish Senator from Massachusetts is not taking root. You have the feeling that Jack started too early and is going to trail badly in the final race.

Merry-Go-Round

Real reason Truman and Eisenhower, once great friends, came to the parting of the ways, was Truman's criticism of Ike in 1952 for failing to fix a corridor to Berlin. He pointed out that Eisenhower, then commander in Germany, had been given the job of safeguarding Berlin and failed to get an agreement from the Russians for Allied access to the city. This continues to be one of the basic German problems and is one reason why Khrushchev can now threaten to shut the Allies off from the city . . . . Ike never forgave Truman for this speech . . . . . Senators Kennedy and Humphrey, both speaking at the Wisconsin Democratic Convention this month, had a chance to show how each is running. Kennedy went over well, but Humphrey really set the crowd on fire . . . . . Humphrey, addressing the Young Democrats in Toledo, had Arkansas Young Democrats come up and congratulate him when he talked about civil rights. He had said: "Civil rights is not only morally right, it's politically sound. There are more colored people in the world. And the Russians have learned how to spell power. They spell it P-E-O-P-L-E."

Differing Attitudes About Student Loan Law

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Congress has appropriated $31,000,000 a year under the National Defense Act for loans to needy students for their education provided they sign an anti-Communist affidavit in supplement to an oath of allegiance to uphold the government of the United States. But 12 universities and colleges, out of 1,370 institutions which have been participating in the program, now refuse to continue under it. They declare that the anti-Communist stipulation raises unnecessarily a suspicion of disloyalty.

The colleges are required by law to provide only one dollar of their own funds for every nine dollars furnished by the federal government for student loans, but the educational institutions say nevertheless that they are obliged to act as trustees or agents of the government in allocating the money.

Most of the institutions which have declined to cooperate in the program can finance needy students in other ways. John F. Morse, administrator of the loan fund in the Office of Education here, says:

"This act was passed for the benefit of needy students, not for the institutions. Wealthy institutions may well provide these benefits from other sources, but there are a number of institutions which, if they were to take the stand Harvard, Yale and others have taken, would literally force students out of college."

Some of the college executives say they don't object to the taking of the oath of allegiance by the students, but they do not want to see an anti-Communist affidavit included. They argue that it is unnecessary and singles the students out as a class. To this, several Senators reply that to take the oath and refuse to sign the anti-Communist affidavit is a contradiction. Senator Bridges, Republican, of New Hampshire, for instance, says the students should deem it an honor to sign the document in question.

The net result may be the passage by the next session of Congress of a different law which in some respects will be stiffer. Amendments have been offered by Senator Russell of Georgia, Democrat, and Senator Mundt of South Dakota, Republican, which would repeal the existing provision and substitute language that would make it a felony hereafter for anyone to accept a loan under the program and then participate in Communist organizations or advocate the overthrow of our government by illegal means. This section of the proposed law would be ordered printed on every loan application form furnished to any student. He would, in addition, be required to take the same oath of allegiance which is prescribed for members of the armed forces, for members of Congress and for employes of the federal government generally. As one Senator pointed out, the students enrolled in the Reserve Officers Training Corps in the colleges have always had to take a loyalty oath.

The temper of the majority in the Senate was reflected in the debate last summer over the proposed repeal of the "loyalty" section of the student-loan program, which motion was defeated by a 49-to-42 vote. Senator Dirksen of Illinois, Republican leader, said:

"What about the boys who are training at Colorado Springs (Air Force Academy)? . . . What about the boys at West Point? They held up their hands. They do not seem to mind doing it; the taking of the oath did not seem to bother them at all."

Senator Russell, chairman of the Armed Services Committee, said:

"We are getting into a queer state of affairs in this country when we cannot mention Communism in connection with our colleges. I yield to no man in my respect for those who devote their lives to the administration of our great educational institutions. But in most instances they are far removed from the harsh realities of life. I shall not abandon my responsibility to undertake to protect the Treasury of the United States from Communist infiltrators merely because I am told that it is an insult to thousands of young men in this country who seek financial help from the government to go to college, to ask them to say that they are not Communists, or to ask them to take an oath to support and defend the Constitution of the United States."

Senator Johnston of South Carolina, Democrat, said:

"In the Subcommittee on Internal Security, we have found a pattern. The Communists use the students within the college to further their purpose . . .

"If we let one such person into a college . . . he will be protected to a certain extent because the student body will say that he is attending the college because of payments he is receiving from the government of the United States, and that tends to turn suspicion away from that individual. That is one reason I want to throw all the protections possible around those whom we assist as students in the colleges of the United States."

To the argument that Communists lie anyhow and hence the oath is superfluous or ineffectual, many Senators have replied by referring to the case of Alger Hiss. Because of technicalities, he couldn't be prosecuted for Communist associations under then existing laws, but was jailed for perjury because he lied under oath to a Congressional committee.

RATING SYSTEMS — At least one congressman believes that the television program rating systems are at the root of the TV "rigging" scandals, and he's out to do something about it.

Ratings are arrived at by several companies who check the estimated number of persons watching specific shows at specific times. The purpose of rigging the quiz shows, according to testimony before the House committee on legislative oversight, was to improve the shows' competitive ratings and thereby the breadth of its advertising appeal.

Rep. Frank Kowalski, Connecticut Democrat, is preparing legislation to control and license these rating companies. He questions how a company can determine the viewing habits of 40 million people by making 1,000 telephone calls.

Kowalski wants the government to examine rating methods to make sure they are scientifically accurate and to license only those companies which adhere to correct procedures.

Further, the former army colonel and West Point graduate wants the government to examine whether the rating systems make any sense at all. He implies the systems should be banned if they cannot demonstrate their real worth.

Kowalski will have some strong support for his proposal if and when it comes up for consideration in Congress. A large segment of the television and radio industry has felt for a long time that the rating companies are the real tyrants that run their business by influencing their sponsors to take on or cancel shows purely on the basis of their mass acceptance.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

The face of history is scarred with gigantic blunders. The brilliant Caesars, the pompous little Napoleons, the hysterical Hitlers, have all contributed to the chain of human error. Often, I have wondered what the German High Command was thinking in the first week of June, 1944, when they permitted Eisenhower to send thousands of ships across the English Channel to land an army and defeat them.

The Germans could have smashed it at any time between May 15th and June 3rd. The freighters, the landing ships, the tugs, the barges, the destroyers were all in ports between Plymouth and Hastings. One big fire bomb attack by the Luftwaffe would have set D-Day back six months. Hitler didn't order it. Gerd von Rundstedt, Commander in the West, didn't request it. Erwin Rommel, commander of coast defenses in France, didn't think Eisenhower was ready.

What happened to all the high-powered brains? Until now, no one knew. Simon and Schuster has just published a book called "The Longest Day." It is written by Cornelius Ryan and it leans heavily on the technique of telling a story minute-by-minute. Mr. Ryan writes so intimately of all the great generals and so many of the G.I.'s in the boats that he recreates D-Day with mastery. To my way of thinking, it is the most fascinating of the World War II books.

Thirty hours before the D-Day landings on June 6th, 1944, Field Marshal Erwin Rommel went home to visit his wife Maria. Before dawn, he and his aide, Captain Hellmuth Lang, rode through La Roche-Guyon en route to Germany. Rommel left an order on his desk to the German 7th and 15th Armies: "Every possible effort must be made to complete obstacles so as to make a low-tide landing possible only at extreme cost to the enemy. . . . Work must be pushed forward. . . . completion to be reported to my headquarters by June 20th."

Adolf Hitler was at Berchtesgaden sleeping when the first 18,000 paratroopers floated down out of the night sky over France. No one awakened him. He and Rommel were certain that the Russian offensive would open in the last week of June, and the Allies would attempt to land in France at the same time. Both were certain that the landing would be in the Pas de Calais area.

No one in the German hierarchy considered the Cherbourg peninsula as an invasion point. The Allies, they reasoned, might create a diversionary landing there, but the real thing would be near Calais, far to the east. In the Cherbourg area, the Germans kept battle-fatigued divisions, some of which were laced with Russian "volunteers."

The High Command did not think of trying to stop Eisenhower's forces before they left England. Rommel and some of the others kept talking about the big battle on the first day of the landings as though it was simpler to push the Allies back into the sea than to sink the ships bringing them to France.

On June 5th, the day before the invasion, the German staff ordered many of their generals to Rennes for war games. General Erich Marcks was preparing to lecture the divisional commanders, with big maps, on what to do in case the Allies landed in the Cherbourg area. He was still studying the maps when he received an urgent phone call from Gen. Wilhelm Richter, who shouted: "Parachutists have landed east of the Orne . . ."

The time was 2:11 a. m. of June 6th. Reports began to fly back and forth between generals on leave and generals playing at war games. Von Rundstedt's headquarters spoke for all of them when it signalled: "Operations OB West holds that this is not a large-scale airborne operation . . ."

Admiral Kranke, German naval commander, was in Bordeaux. Gen. von Schlieben was sleeping in a hotel room. General Wilhelm Falley, commanding one of the divisions at Cherbourg, couldn't be found. Lt.-Col. Priller of the 26th fighter wing, tumbled out of bed to answer an urgent call. "Priller," the voice said, "it seems some sort of an invasion is taking place. I suggest you put your wing on the alert."

Priller blew up. He reminded his boss that his 124 planes had been removed from the area only yesterday.

At dawn, Major Werner Pluskat stared out of a concrete beach bunker at the English Channel. He did this every morning and saw nothing but an empty sea. This time, in the mist, he saw ships, hundreds of ships of all sizes, sailing toward his eyeballs.

He shut his eyes and murmured: "This is the end for Germany" . . .

Army Is Made 7-Point Favorite Over Middies Saturday

Texas Choice By 10 Points Over Aggies

Southern Cal Gets Edge Over Irish; Miami Is Picked

NEW YORK (UPI) — Texas was favored to clinch a Cotton Bowl berth on Thanksgiving Day and Army was made a seven-point choice over Navy in their annual service classic on Saturday in a rundown Tuesday on this week-end's college football odds.

Texas can clinch the host spot in the Cotton Bowl by beating Texas A&M in one of the big games on the "Turkey Day" program, and the Longhorns were firmly established as 10-point favorites to do just that. If the Aggies spring an upset, then the berth goes to Arkansas.

Army and Navy are both out of the bowl picture, but there's the usual big order of glory at stake in their traditional clash Saturday at Philadelphia.

Mississippi, which has been tabbed a probable rival for Louisiana State in the Sugar Bowl, is a 24-point favorite over Mississippi State on Saturday.

THURSDAY

Virginia Tech 3 over VMI
Duke 4 over North Carolina.
Brown 7 over Colgate.
Texas 10 over Texas A&M
Penn 11 over Cornell

SATURDAY

Georgia-Georgia Tech, even
Southern Cal. 1 over Notre Dame
Wake Forest 1 over South Caro.
Rice 1 over Baylor
Air Force A. 2 over Colorado
Miami (Fla.) 3 over Florida.
Army 7 over Navy
Tennessee 7 over Vanderbilt
Auburn 7 over Albama
Texas Christian 7 over SMU
Oklahoma 18 over Oklahoma St.
Mississippi 24 over Mississippi St.

Detroit Wins, Shue Gets 43

Syracuse Defeats Knicks, 120-107

NEW YORK (UPI) — Frank Selvy, a former Knick, provided the spark for Syracuse's 120-107 victory over New York Tuesday night, and Gene Shue's 43 points paced Detroit to a 104-91 triumph over Cincinnati in a National Basketball Association doubleheader.

Syracuse built a 53-39 lead over New York with 5:35 to go in the first half when the Knicks rallied to close to 55-51 with 2:25 remaining.

Selvy then came off the bench to score six points and give the Nats a 67-58 half-time lead. Selvy scored nine more points in the first seven minutes of the second half, giving him a total of 15 for the night.

John Kerr led Syracuse with 22 points, 10 of them coming in a second-half drive that gave the Nats their biggest lead, 103-86, with 9:59 to go in the game. Kenny Sears was high man for New York with 29 points and Carl Braun had 22.

A crowd of 7,550 watched the twinbill at Madison Square Garden.

UCLA Triumph Could Scramble Final AP Poll

Syracuse To Play On Coast Dec. 5

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

Syracuse's the only unbeaten major college team in the nation, Tuesday was more firmly entrenched than ever in the No. 1 position in the Associated Press' weekly poll.

But unexpected trouble lurks ahead for the leaders in late-spurting UCLA. The Bruins last Saturday toppled previously undefeated Southern California, 10-3.

UCLA (4-3-1), which took over the No. 20 berth in the poll on the strength of the upset, meets Utah (5-4) this Saturday as a warm-up for the meeting with Syracuse at Los Angeles Dec. 5. Syracuse is idle.

Another upset by UCLA could really scramble the final poll, which will be taken after the Dec. 5 games.

Southern Cal's defeat dropped the Trojans (8-1) from fourth to seventh. Texas (8-1) advanced from fifth to fourth behind Mississippi (8-1) and Louisiana State's Sugar Bowl-bound Bengals (9-1). Ole Miss and LSU maintained their two-three positions.

Other members of the top 10 are: 5, Wisconsin (7-2); 6, Georgia (8-1); 8, Texas Christian (7-2); 9, Washington (9-1), and 10, Arkansas (8-2).

LSU, Wisconsin, Washington and Arkansas are through for the regular season but all are set for bowl play.

Syracuse received an almost landslide vote, collecting 121 first-placers of the 174 ballot cast. The upstate New Yorkers' point total was 1,602, on the usual scoring of 10 for first, 9 for second, 8 for third and so on.

The top 10 with first place votes and won-lost records in parentheses:

1.	Syracuse (121) (9-0)	1,602
2.	Mississippi (32) (8-1)	1,377
3.	Louisiana State (1) (9-1)	1,216
4.	Texas (1) (8-1)	978
5.	Wisconsin (2) (7-2)	753

Johansson May Have To Wait For $152,000

D'Amato Threatens To Sue Commission

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson may have to wait for his $152,000 after all. It could be a long time, too, maybe six or seven months more.

And Cus D'Amato, whose licenses as manager and second were revoked by the New York State Athletic Commission Monday, isn't out of the picture, either. The 50-year-old manager of ex-champ Floyd Patterson said he's going to the courts in an effort to upset the commission's action.

Gen. Melvin Krulewitch, chairman of the three-man commission, released the sad news for Ingemar Tuesday. In a statement, he contradicted one made Monday by Julius Helfand, former chairman and now a plain member.

Johansson's money has been held in escrow by the commission to guarantee Patterson a return fight, according to the terms of the contract for the first Johansson-Patterson bout last June 26 at Yankee Stadium.

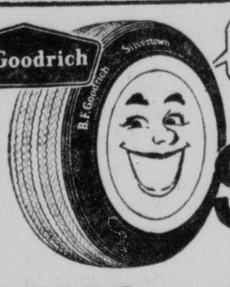

Not so long after Helfand made his remarks, D'Amato's lawyer threatened to sue all three commissioners personally if the purse was released before a return bout is held. The third member of the New York commission is James Farley Jr.

D'Amato said he would attack the commission's jurisdiction in the court appeal.

Texas Choice By 10 Points Over Aggies

Southern Cal Gets Edge Over Irish; Miami Is Picked

NEW YORK (UPI) — Texas was favored to clinch a Cotton Bowl berth on Thanksgiving Day and Army was made a seven-point choice over Navy in their annual service classic on Saturday in a rundown Tuesday on this week-end's college football odds.

Texas can clinch the host spot in the Cotton Bowl by beating Texas A&M in one of the big games on the "Turkey Day" program, and the Longhorns were firmly established as 10-point favorites to do just that. If the Aggies spring an upset, then the berth goes to Arkansas.

Army and Navy are both out of the bowl picture, but there's the usual big order of glory at stake in their traditional clash Saturday at Philadelphia.

Mississippi, which has been tabbed a probable rival for Louisiana State in the Sugar Bowl, is a 24-point favorite over Mississippi State on Saturday.

THURSDAY

Virginia Tech 3 over VMI
Duke 4 over North Carolina.
Brown 7 over Colgate.
Texas 10 over Texas A&M
Penn 11 over Cornell

SATURDAY

Detroit Wins, Shue Gets 43

Syracuse Defeats Knicks, 120-107

NEW YORK (UPI) — Frank Selvy, a former Knick, provided the spark for Syracuse's 120-107 victory over New York Tuesday night, and Gene Shue's 43 points paced Detroit to a 104-91 triumph over Cincinnati in a National Basketball Association doubleheader.

Syracuse built a 53-39 lead over New York with 5:35 to go in the first half when the Knicks rallied to close to 55-51 with 2:25 remaining.

Selvy then came off the bench to score six points and give the Nats a 67-58 half-time lead. Selvy scored nine more points in the first seven minutes of the second half, giving him a total of 15 for the night.

John Kerr led Syracuse with 22 points, 10 of them coming in a second-half drive that gave the Nats their biggest lead, 103-86, with 9:59 to go in the game. Kenny Sears was high man for New York with 29 points and Carl Braun had 22.

Sword Dancer Unanimously Chosen Horse Of The Year

Warfare Is Voted 1959's Top Juvenile

Round Table Gets "Best Grass Horse" Title For Year

NEW YORK (UPI) — Brookmeade Stable's Sword Dancer on Tuesday unanimously was chosen "Horse of the Year" in the 24th annual poll of staff members conducted by the Morning Telegraph and daily racing form.

The gallant little campaigner also was named champion of the three-year-old division and handicap king, as well. It was the first time since Citation swept the boards in 1948 that any horse received every vote for top honors.

Bellehurst Stable's Warfare also was a unanimous choice, getting 180 points awarded on the basis of five for first, two for second and one for third. Thirty - six editors, columnist, trackmen, correspondents and clockers participated.

Warfare was chosen top two-year old colt as well as the leading juvenile. The best young filly was Frances A. Genter's My Dear Girl with 177 points.

Best 3-Year-Old

The best three-year-old filly was Perne L. Grissom's Royal Native. Balloting was closest in this division with C. V. Whitney's Silver Spoon getting 73 points and Wheatley Stable's High Bid getting 72.

As best of the handicap division Sword Dancer received 163 points, easily beating out C. W. Smith's Hillsdale which got 66. Kerr Stable's Round Table surprisingly received only 50 points.

Morningn Stable's Tempted only lost one first-place vote as best handicap filly or more and drew 177 points. Brookfield Farm's Intentionally ruled as sprint champion with 120 points while Mrs. Ogden Phipps' Ancestor was judged the best steeplechase horse with 161 points.

Started 13 Times

Sword Dancer, a chestnut son during 1959, winning eight races with four seconds. He was out of the money only once when he finished fifth in the Hutcheson Handicap at Gulfstream Park on March 11, his first start of the year.

Sword Dancer, a chestnut son of Sunglow, was second in the Florida Derby, the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness before he stepped out of his class to win his first stake. Sword Dancer beat older horses in the Metropolitan Handicap and then took the Belmont Stakes. Before the year was out he also won the Monmouth and Brooklyn Handicaps, the Travers Stakes, and Woodward Stakes and the Jockey Club Gold Cup.

In the Woodward Stakes he beat Hillsdale and Round Table and in the Jockey Club Gold Cup cemented "horse of the year" honors by licking Round Table for the second time.

PVC "Big" League Gary Scores Triple — 324th For Campers Corle Recuperating

By C. V. BURNS

THE POTOMAC Valley Conference with Bayard High as the 19th member could be one of the largest high school circuits in the country.

Schools represented are from ten counties — eight in West Virginia and two in Maryland.

The league has football, basketball, baseball, track and field and may adopt cross-country, a fast growing sport, by next fall. The circuit has been in operation since 1938.

Here are the schools holding memberships and the counties in which they are located:

WEST VIRGINIA (17)

School	County
Bayard	Grant
Berkeley Springs	Morgan
Capon Bridge	Hampshire
Circleville	Pendleton

MARYLAND (2)

IF Charley Lattimer's Fort Hill Sentinels defeat Allegany in the city championship game Thanksgiving Day they'll tie Allegany's record for undefeated grid teams.

The Campers have had five undefeated teams, three of which were tied, from 1936 through 1948. Prior to this year Fort Hill had four unbeaten teams, two of which were tied.

Fort Hill's present team owns a 7-0-1 record going into the final game of the season.

Here are Allegany's undefeated teams:

"Bo" Sherman Resigns As Colonials' Coach

Mentor For Eight Years Steps Down After Worst Season

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Eugene (Bo) Sherman resigned Tuesday as head football coach at George Washington University after the Colonials' worst season in 30 years.

Sherman, 51, said "I resigned after eight years at George Washington for strictly personal reasons. I really don't know what I will do. I'll have to think about it for a while."

The Colonials tumbled from third place this year with an 0-5 conference record and only an 18-14 upset win over Boston University against eight losses overall. The Colonials' worst season was 0-8 in 1929.

Sherman's teams had a respectable 29-30-3 overall record until this year but graduation losses and injuries crippled the squad and he left with a 30-33-3 mark. His best season was 7-1-1 in 1957.

Sherman was a star back and tackle at Henderson State College, Ark., and later was head coach there, compiling a 30-9 record, before joining coach John (Bo) Roland as an assistant at the Citadel, Oklahoma City College and then at George Washington. He succeeded Roland in 1951 when Roland went into private business.

Meyersdale Will Stage Invitational Tourney

Holiday Basketball Event Set Jan. 1-2

MEYERSDALE, Pa.—A five-man committee from Meyersdale Lions Club is currently screening teams and making final plans for a Holiday Invitational Basketball Tournament to be held Friday and Saturday nights, Jan. 1 & 2, in Meyersdale's new junior-senior high school gymnasium.

The tournament is a first-time event for the community and plans are to conduct it annually during the Christmas holidays. The tournament will be a two-night affair with two contests slated for each evening.

First night will be elimination night, with the losers meeting the second night in a consolation contest and the winners meeting in the final championship battle. Four basketball teams will participate.

As yet the committee has not officially come up with the names of the teams who will participate in the tournament, only the host team, Meyersdale's Red Raiders. Each year the Meyersdale team will be host to three other teams, not only from Somerset county, but from other counties as well.

To date feelers have been sent out to a number of Somerset and Bedford county teams. When the committee has arrived at a decision on the other three teams who will participate, and a contract is signed with the school, an announcement will be made to the public.

Handsome trophies will be offered to the championship team and to the most outstanding player, along with other awards. Tickets for the tourney will be on sale in the very near future. Most of these will be sold through an advance sale. Anyone wishing to reserve a ticket or tickets should contact a member of the tournament committee.

Pirates Name Vernon Coach

Mickey Is Signed To Replace Detore

PITTSBURGH (UPI) —Veteran major leaguer Mickey Vernon, a life-long friend of Pittsburgh manager Danny Murtaugh, Tuesday was named a Pirate coach for the 1960 season.

Vernon, former American League batting champion, will be on the first base coaching line. He will replace George Detore, who will return to his old job as Pirate scouting supervisor for the Great Lakes region.

The 41-year-old first baseman split the 1959 season between the Cleveland Indians and the Milwaukee Braves and is a veteran of 17 years in the majors. He appeared in 74 games last season, mostly as a pinchhitter, and had a .220 batting average.

Vernon spent most of his playing days with the Washington Senators, with whom he broke into the majors, and also played for the Boston Red Sox. He has played on six American League All-Star teams and won the junior circuit batting title in 1953 with a .337 average.

Warfare Is Voted 1959's Top Juvenile

Round Table Gets "Best Grass Horse" Title For Year

NEW YORK (UPI) — Brookmeade Stable's Sword Dancer on Tuesday unanimously was chosen "Horse of the Year" in the 24th annual poll of staff members conducted by the Morning Telegraph and daily racing form.

The gallant little campaigner also was named champion of the three-year-old division and handicap king, as well. It was the first time since Citation swept the boards in 1948 that any horse received every vote for top honors.

Bellehurst Stable's Warfare also was a unanimous choice, getting 180 points awarded on the basis of five for first, two for second and one for third. Thirty - six editors, columnist, trackmen, correspondents and clockers participated.

Warfare was chosen top two-year old colt as well as the leading juvenile. The best young filly was Frances A. Genter's My Dear Girl with 177 points.

Best 3-Year-Old

The best three-year-old filly was Perne L. Grissom's Royal Native. Balloting was closest in this division with C. V. Whitney's Silver Spoon getting 73 points and Wheatley Stable's High Bid getting 72.

As best of the handicap division Sword Dancer received 163 points, easily beating out C. W. Smith's Hillsdale which got 66. Kerr Stable's Round Table surprisingly received only 50 points.

Morningn Stable's Tempted only lost one first-place vote as best handicap filly or more and drew 177 points. Brookfield Farm's Intentionally ruled as sprint champion with 120 points while Mrs. Ogden Phipps' Ancestor was judged the best steeplechase horse with 161 points.

Started 13 Times

Sword Dancer, a chestnut son during 1959, winning eight races with four seconds. He was out of the money only once when he finished fifth in the Hutcheson Handicap at Gulfstream Park on March 11, his first start of the year.

Sword Dancer, a chestnut son of Sunglow, was second in the Florida Derby, the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness before he stepped out of his class to win his first stake. Sword Dancer beat older horses in the Metropolitan Handicap and then took the Belmont Stakes. Before the year was out he also won the Monmouth and Brooklyn Handicaps, the Travers Stakes, and Woodward Stakes and the Jockey Club Gold Cup.

In the Woodward Stakes he beat Hillsdale and Round Table and in the Jockey Club Gold Cup cemented "horse of the year" honors by licking Round Table for the second time.

"Bo" Sherman Resigns As Colonials' Coach

Mentor For Eight Years Steps Down After Worst Season

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Eugene (Bo) Sherman resigned Tuesday as head football coach at George Washington University after the Colonials' worst season in 30 years.

Sherman, 51, said "I resigned after eight years at George Washington for strictly personal reasons. I really don't know what I will do. I'll have to think about it for a while."

The Colonials tumbled from third place this year with an 0-5 conference record and only an 18-14 upset win over Boston University against eight losses overall. The Colonials' worst season was 0-8 in 1929.

Sherman's teams had a respectable 29-30-3 overall record until this year but graduation losses and injuries crippled the squad and he left with a 30-33-3 mark. His best season was 7-1-1 in 1957.

Sherman was a star back and tackle at Henderson State College, Ark., and later was head coach there, compiling a 30-9 record, before joining coach John (Bo) Roland as an assistant at the Citadel, Oklahoma City College and then at George Washington. He succeeded Roland in 1951 when Roland went into private business.

Meyersdale Will Stage Invitational Tourney

Holiday Basketball Event Set Jan. 1-2

MEYERSDALE, Pa.—A five-man committee from Meyersdale Lions Club is currently screening teams and making final plans for a Holiday Invitational Basketball Tournament to be held Friday and Saturday nights, Jan. 1 & 2, in Meyersdale's new junior-senior high school gymnasium.

The tournament is a first-time event for the community and plans are to conduct it annually during the Christmas holidays. The tournament will be a two-night affair with two contests slated for each evening.

First night will be elimination night, with the losers meeting the second night in a consolation contest and the winners meeting in the final championship battle. Four basketball teams will participate.

As yet the committee has not officially come up with the names of the teams who will participate in the tournament, only the host team, Meyersdale's Red Raiders. Each year the Meyersdale team will be host to three other teams, not only from Somerset county, but from other counties as well.

To date feelers have been sent out to a number of Somerset and Bedford county teams. When the committee has arrived at a decision on the other three teams who will participate, and a contract is signed with the school, an announcement will be made to the public.

Handsome trophies will be offered to the championship team and to the most outstanding player, along with other awards. Tickets for the tourney will be on sale in the very near future. Most of these will be sold through an advance sale. Anyone wishing to reserve a ticket or tickets should contact a member of the tournament committee.

Pirates Name Vernon Coach

Mickey Is Signed To Replace Detore

PITTSBURGH (UPI) —Veteran major leaguer Mickey Vernon, a life-long friend of Pittsburgh manager Danny Murtaugh, Tuesday was named a Pirate coach for the 1960 season.

Vernon, former American League batting champion, will be on the first base coaching line. He will replace George Detore, who will return to his old job as Pirate scouting supervisor for the Great Lakes region.

The 41-year-old first baseman split the 1959 season between the Cleveland Indians and the Milwaukee Braves and is a veteran of 17 years in the majors. He appeared in 74 games last season, mostly as a pinchhitter, and had a .220 batting average.

Vernon spent most of his playing days with the Washington Senators, with whom he broke into the majors, and also played for the Boston Red Sox. He has played on six American League All-Star teams and won the junior circuit batting title in 1953 with a .337 average.

Jack Dempsey, Joe Louis and Henry Armstrong were among the 1,500 mourners for the one-time heavyweight champion, who died Saturday of a heart attack in Hollywood, at the age of 50.

The Rev. Patrick McHugh, pastor of Holy Spirit Roman Catholic church, read brief services in a private funeral chapel, and again at a Catholic mausoleum. There was no eulogy.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

"They say 'good at any time' — rush hour or no rush hour!"

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN: I read often in your column about wives who cheat on their husbands and the poor guys don't know what to do. This is how I handled the problem.

My wife is 31, a natural redhead with a great figure. We've been married 10 years and never had any children. The third year of our marriage Myra admitted to an affair with her boss—a married man with five children.

She said they were deeply in love and he was trying to "work out a settlement with his wife so they could be married."

I went to see the man and told him that since their love was so great, he could have her. The guy almost swallowed his cigar. He said he had no intention of breaking up his marriage and offered to find Myra another job at once.

Two years later she got involved with a single man. She said finances were delaying their plans to go off together. I went to see this fellow and told him I'd be happy to set Myra free. I even offered to lend him some money so he could marry her. He almost passed out in front of my eyes. He said he felt like a big jerk and promised never to see her again.

After these two experiences my wife finally got it through that red head that these guys were just amusing themselves. She admitted she'd been a fool and I've never had a bit of trouble with her since.—RELAXED

DEAR ANN: Please don't toss my letter aside as a fantastic story. This problem is ruining my life. Tell me if it's possible for a person to say things which are not true while under an anesthetic.

My husband insists I told him in detail of an illicit love affair while coming out of ether. This was six months ago and he's been harping on it steadily. I've never had anything to do with another man either before or since my marriage 13 years ago. Please tell me how to cope with this. — DREAMER

DEAR DREAMER: Ask your surgeon to speak to your husband. The surgeon will tell him that probably due to his anxiety he imagined things which were never said. He may have caught a word or two and added his own interpretation.

People do not relate in detail coherent accounts of anything while coming out of an anesthetic. Most words are jumbled together, unrelated and make very little sense.

DEAR ANN: In America an increasing number of teen-agers live on soft drinks, potato chips, candy, ice-cream and peanuts. This will eventually undermine the health of our country.

Will you please say something in your column about this?

Millions of teen-agers read your column daily and if their parents don't know enough to alert them to this danger, maybe you can do something. — MR. Z.

DEAR MR. Z.: Although it may seem that most American teen-agers are living on junk, the truth of the matter is the diet structure in America is the most nourishing in the world. In most countries there is less variety of the basic essentials and it is available to fewer people.

I agree that some teen-agers' complexions and teeth would improve if they ate fewer sweets, but most American teens get enough nourishing food to balance it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO SHARPIE: You write so well — when are you going to learn to read? I was not born in Russia. Look again, please.

CONFIDENTIAL TO NO FUTURE: Sorry but I can't sit down and cry with you. The pessimist says the bottle is half empty — but the optimist says it's half full. Same bottle, just a different point of view. If you read this column regularly you know that SOME people have real trouble.

To learn how to keep your boy friend in line without losing him, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Necking and Petting — And How Far To Go," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your probelms. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

HOLLYWOOD

By Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — Mr. Clark Gable, oft-times known as King Gable, accepts with pleasure the invitation to co-star with Miss Marilyn Monroe in Arthur Miller's "Misfits" — even if Marilyn's playwright husband did write the original and the script!

In all the excitement over Gregory Peck bowing out of "Let's Fall in Love" and the hot possibility that Rock Hudson may step into that role, Clark's signing for MM's next movie has almost been overlooked in the rush.

John Huston, set to direct "Misfits", arrives here Dec. 4 to confer with Miller and Marilyn and of course, with Gable. Clark has said he doesn't want to work too hard, but having completed "Bay of Naples" for Perlberg-Seaton in Italy the King can rest while Marilyn completes "Let's Fall in Love." Gable and Monroe should kill the people at the boxoffice.

Alfred Hitchcock, who doesn't like it when I call him "cute" (even if he is) permitted me to pin him down about a certain casting in his new picture "Psycho." Admitting that it starts Monday with Janet Leigh and Vera Miles, he answered my question about whether his daughter is also in the cast with:

"Yes, a certain young actress by the name of Patricia Hitchcock is in the picture. I figure it's about time I gave her another acting chance. She hasn't been on the screen since my 'Strangers On a Train' 10 years ago." And then with that fascinating clipped dialogue of his, he added, "Meanwhile, between pictures she has married, had three children and reached the age of 30 even if she photographs 16. I don't think this is going from one film to another too fast, do you?" Love that Hitchy.

I keep hearing about the movies the American - International Company has made or is making. "Goliath and the Barbarian," starring Steve Reeves, is one of them.

Now comes news that Vincent Price will star in Edgar Allan Poe's "The Fall of the House of Usher." "Usher" rolls Jan. 13 right here in Hollywood with Roger Corman producing and directing. And, in case you don't know, American - International is headed by James Nicholson and Samuel Arkoff.

If things keep on as they are going in Hollywood that old phrase "have gun, will travel" may get itself reversed to "have silver spoon. Will star." We had Princess Grace — and now we have Dina Merrill of the oh-so-rich set well into orbit toward stardom.

Blonde heiress Dina is off to Australia for "The Sundowners" with Deborah Kerr and Bob Mitchum. Then a jet ride brings Dina back to Hollywood to start "Brotherhood of Evil" with James Mason and Louis Jourdan for UA. Meanwhile, this working-gal-socialite has made three recent TV appearances plus posing for a five-page layout and cover for a current magazine.

All the girls in town are jealous of 79-year-old Jane Darwell who received a bouquet of flowers, plus an orchid corsage, from Fabian to wear to the opening of their picture "The Hound Dog Man."

Jane is now laughing at herself for pulling out of "Saratoga," the stage play, because of her age. She drove all the way back from New York to Hollywood alone, and she says she felt like a pioneer woman in covered wagon time, driving through the blizzards. What a great woman.

You can't say that Laurence Olivier doesn't try to serve both art and commerce. From a friend in London I hear that Larry, who is making the film version, of "The Entertainer" (which he brought to both the London and Broadway stage last winter) is playing at the same time in Shakespear's "Coriolanus."

"The Entertainer" is being produced in London and Larry is on the set from 6 a.m. until 4 p.m. Then he drives 100 miles to Stratford-On-Avon, does his Shakespearean performance, and returns by car to London the same night. That's certainly being devoted to your work if I ever heard of it—but who has that much energy these days?

Meeting Held On Wage Problem

Milton B. Millon of College Park, director of the Municipal Technical Advisory Service of the Maryland Municipal League, was here yesterday conferring with city officials.

Millon met with City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson and City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery preliminary to the start of a wage classification study for city employes.

Ullery and Gibson had been named by the Mayor and Council to formulate a tentative plan for the wage classification. Millon's assistance was asked by city officials during the recent convention of the Municipal League in Frederick.

The league advisory service was established to aid minicipalities with problems on almost all levels of government.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

"They say 'good at any time' — rush hour or no rush hour!"

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN: I read often in your column about wives who cheat on their husbands and the poor guys don't know what to do. This is how I handled the problem.

My wife is 31, a natural redhead with a great figure. We've been married 10 years and never had any children. The third year of our marriage Myra admitted to an affair with her boss—a married man with five children.

She said they were deeply in love and he was trying to "work out a settlement with his wife so they could be married."

I went to see the man and told him that since their love was so great, he could have her. The guy almost swallowed his cigar. He said he had no intention of breaking up his marriage and offered to find Myra another job at once.

Two years later she got involved with a single man. She said finances were delaying their plans to go off together. I went to see this fellow and told him I'd be happy to set Myra free. I even offered to lend him some money so he could marry her. He almost passed out in front of my eyes. He said he felt like a big jerk and promised never to see her again.

After these two experiences my wife finally got it through that red head that these guys were just amusing themselves. She admitted she'd been a fool and I've never had a bit of trouble with her since.—RELAXED

DEAR ANN: Please don't toss my letter aside as a fantastic story. This problem is ruining my life. Tell me if it's possible for a person to say things which are not true while under an anesthetic.

My husband insists I told him in detail of an illicit love affair while coming out of ether. This was six months ago and he's been harping on it steadily. I've never had anything to do with another man either before or since my marriage 13 years ago. Please tell me how to cope with this. — DREAMER

DEAR DREAMER: Ask your surgeon to speak to your husband. The surgeon will tell him that probably due to his anxiety he imagined things which were never said. He may have caught a word or two and added his own interpretation.

People do not relate in detail coherent accounts of anything while coming out of an anesthetic. Most words are jumbled together, unrelated and make very little sense.

DEAR ANN: In America an increasing number of teen-agers live on soft drinks, potato chips, candy, ice-cream and peanuts. This will eventually undermine the health of our country.

Will you please say something in your column about this?

Millions of teen-agers read your column daily and if their parents don't know enough to alert them to this danger, maybe you can do something. — MR. Z.

DEAR MR. Z.: Although it may seem that most American teen-agers are living on junk, the truth of the matter is the diet structure in America is the most nourishing in the world. In most countries there is less variety of the basic essentials and it is available to fewer people.

I agree that some teen-agers' complexions and teeth would improve if they ate fewer sweets, but most American teens get enough nourishing food to balance it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO SHARPIE: You write so well — when are you going to learn to read? I was not born in Russia. Look again, please.

CONFIDENTIAL TO NO FUTURE: Sorry but I can't sit down and cry with you. The pessimist says the bottle is half empty — but the optimist says it's half full. Same bottle, just a different point of view. If you read this column regularly you know that SOME people have real trouble.

To learn how to keep your boy friend in line without losing him, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Necking and Petting — And How Far To Go," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your probelms. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

HOLLYWOOD

By Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — Mr. Clark Gable, oft-times known as King Gable, accepts with pleasure the invitation to co-star with Miss Marilyn Monroe in Arthur Miller's "Misfits" — even if Marilyn's playwright husband did write the original and the script!

In all the excitement over Gregory Peck bowing out of "Let's Fall in Love" and the hot possibility that Rock Hudson may step into that role, Clark's signing for MM's next movie has almost been overlooked in the rush.

John Huston, set to direct "Misfits", arrives here Dec. 4 to confer with Miller and Marilyn and of course, with Gable. Clark has said he doesn't want to work too hard, but having completed "Bay of Naples" for Perlberg-Seaton in Italy the King can rest while Marilyn completes "Let's Fall in Love." Gable and Monroe should kill the people at the boxoffice.

Alfred Hitchcock, who doesn't like it when I call him "cute" (even if he is) permitted me to pin him down about a certain casting in his new picture "Psycho." Admitting that it starts Monday with Janet Leigh and Vera Miles, he answered my question about whether his daughter is also in the cast with:

"Yes, a certain young actress by the name of Patricia Hitchcock is in the picture. I figure it's about time I gave her another acting chance. She hasn't been on the screen since my 'Strangers On a Train' 10 years ago." And then with that fascinating clipped dialogue of his, he added, "Meanwhile, between pictures she has married, had three children and reached the age of 30 even if she photographs 16. I don't think this is going from one film to another too fast, do you?" Love that Hitchy.

I keep hearing about the movies the American - International Company has made or is making. "Goliath and the Barbarian," starring Steve Reeves, is one of them.

Now comes news that Vincent Price will star in Edgar Allan Poe's "The Fall of the House of Usher." "Usher" rolls Jan. 13 right here in Hollywood with Roger Corman producing and directing. And, in case you don't know, American - International is headed by James Nicholson and Samuel Arkoff.

If things keep on as they are going in Hollywood that old phrase "have gun, will travel" may get itself reversed to "have silver spoon. Will star." We had Princess Grace — and now we have Dina Merrill of the oh-so-rich set well into orbit toward stardom.

Blonde heiress Dina is off to Australia for "The Sundowners" with Deborah Kerr and Bob Mitchum. Then a jet ride brings Dina back to Hollywood to start "Brotherhood of Evil" with James Mason and Louis Jourdan for UA. Meanwhile, this working-gal-socialite has made three recent TV appearances plus posing for a five-page layout and cover for a current magazine.

All the girls in town are jealous of 79-year-old Jane Darwell who received a bouquet of flowers, plus an orchid corsage, from Fabian to wear to the opening of their picture "The Hound Dog Man."

Jane is now laughing at herself for pulling out of "Saratoga," the stage play, because of her age. She drove all the way back from New York to Hollywood alone, and she says she felt like a pioneer woman in covered wagon time, driving through the blizzards. What a great woman.

You can't say that Laurence Olivier doesn't try to serve both art and commerce. From a friend in London I hear that Larry, who is making the film version, of "The Entertainer" (which he brought to both the London and Broadway stage last winter) is playing at the same time in Shakespear's "Coriolanus."

"The Entertainer" is being produced in London and Larry is on the set from 6 a.m. until 4 p.m. Then he drives 100 miles to Stratford-On-Avon, does his Shakespearean performance, and returns by car to London the same night. That's certainly being devoted to your work if I ever heard of it—but who has that much energy these days?

Tobaccos And Aircrafts Feature Mixed Market

Traders moved cautiously for the most part in anticipation of Thanksviging which will inaugurate a four-day weekend for many in the street. There was considerable see-sawing marked by occasional responsiveness to corporate developments or prospects.

The recently strong electronics came under pressure with losses running to 6 in Ampex, more than 5 in Litton, more than 7 in Texas Instruments and more than 4 in Motorola. IBM countered with a 16 point spurt to 425. General Time gained more than 6.

The aircrafts, which have experienced some good support in recent sessions, were bid up most of the day. Curtiss-Wright, for its role in developing a new internal combustion engine with only two moving parts, climbed 3¼ to 35 ¼. Cessna jumped 3, Boeing more than 2, and North American Aviation more than a point.

Trading expanded to 3,650,000 shares, from 3,400,000 shares the day before. The market broadened to 1,240 issues traded, four more than previously. Of these, 518 declined, 514 advanced and 208 held unchanged. New lows outnumbered new highs 60 to 32.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 ♦	1 ♠	2 NT.	Pass
3 NT.	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Jack of ♠.

The hand presented today is taken from the match between Great Britain and Italy, two of the principal contenders for the European Championship held recently in Palermo, Sicily. The English had fallen mildly behind about half way thru the contest and, feeling the necessity for pressing, they attempted to squeeze out a game contract on the North-South holding. However, the combined values did not quite reach, and the Italians, who ultimately won the title for the fourth straight year, were able to add further padding to their lead.

Where Great Britain was seated North-South Konstam, North opened the bidding with one diamond. Avarelli, East, overcalled with one spade. Meredith bid two no trump. This is somewhat less than we would require for such a call, but it must be borne in mind that in their methods the response of two no trump is not forcing and may be made on as little as 11 points. Konstam chose to go on to three no trump and Meredith was able to win only eight tricks.

It seems to me that in the methods which they employ, Konstam might have been content to pass the bid of two no trump, since it is established that the partnership can hardly have 25 high card points. Konstam actually had 12 and with 13 points, his partner would have made a more aggressive response than the nonforcing bid of two no trump.

In the other room, the Italian pair seated North and South reached a comfortable contract of one no trump. North chose to pass, and after East's one spade opening was not kept alive, North reopened with a competitive call of one no trump. In view of North's original pass, South realized that a game was not in contemplation, so he permitted his partner to play one no trump at which contract North took eight tricks for a score of 120 points.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) —Grain futures advanced Tuesday on the Chicago Board of Trade as unsettled weather brought buying into the market.

At the final bell, wheat was up ⅜ to ⅞; corn unchanged to up ⅜; oats unchanged to up ½; rye up ¼ to 1½; and soybeans unchanged to up ½.

Nearby wheat prices were strong. Commercial houses bought December and sold March at 4⅞ cents difference. Others who sold March took deferred contracts. With export activity expected very soon, there was no pressure on the market.

Corn was firm. Early trading was light and mixed, but a commercial house was a heavy buyer of March and December corn. Local traders and commission houses sold. All bids for export subsidies were rejected.

Cash house buying of December oats helped to firm the oats market.

Rye was strong in all contracts.

Soybeans registered gains of a cent or more in most contracts. Trade was moderate, but local traders and commission houses were active. Higher meal prices lent support. Considerable interest was expressed in a crushing report to be released Wednesday.

No export sales were reported. India was said to be negotiating for 3,750,000 bushels of wheat, and Brazil may accept offers on a similar amount Wednesday.

Outside markets were mostly higher.

Tobaccos And Aircrafts Feature Mixed Market

Traders moved cautiously for the most part in anticipation of Thanksviging which will inaugurate a four-day weekend for many in the street. There was considerable see-sawing marked by occasional responsiveness to corporate developments or prospects.

The recently strong electronics came under pressure with losses running to 6 in Ampex, more than 5 in Litton, more than 7 in Texas Instruments and more than 4 in Motorola. IBM countered with a 16 point spurt to 425. General Time gained more than 6.

The aircrafts, which have experienced some good support in recent sessions, were bid up most of the day. Curtiss-Wright, for its role in developing a new internal combustion engine with only two moving parts, climbed 3¼ to 35 ¼. Cessna jumped 3, Boeing more than 2, and North American Aviation more than a point.

Trading expanded to 3,650,000 shares, from 3,400,000 shares the day before. The market broadened to 1,240 issues traded, four more than previously. Of these, 518 declined, 514 advanced and 208 held unchanged. New lows outnumbered new highs 60 to 32.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 ♦	1 ♠	2 NT.	Pass
3 NT.	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Jack of ♠.

The hand presented today is taken from the match between Great Britain and Italy, two of the principal contenders for the European Championship held recently in Palermo, Sicily. The English had fallen mildly behind about half way thru the contest and, feeling the necessity for pressing, they attempted to squeeze out a game contract on the North-South holding. However, the combined values did not quite reach, and the Italians, who ultimately won the title for the fourth straight year, were able to add further padding to their lead.

Where Great Britain was seated North-South Konstam, North opened the bidding with one diamond. Avarelli, East, overcalled with one spade. Meredith bid two no trump. This is somewhat less than we would require for such a call, but it must be borne in mind that in their methods the response of two no trump is not forcing and may be made on as little as 11 points. Konstam chose to go on to three no trump and Meredith was able to win only eight tricks.

It seems to me that in the methods which they employ, Konstam might have been content to pass the bid of two no trump, since it is established that the partnership can hardly have 25 high card points. Konstam actually had 12 and with 13 points, his partner would have made a more aggressive response than the nonforcing bid of two no trump.

In the other room, the Italian pair seated North and South reached a comfortable contract of one no trump. North chose to pass, and after East's one spade opening was not kept alive, North reopened with a competitive call of one no trump. In view of North's original pass, South realized that a game was not in contemplation, so he permitted his partner to play one no trump at which contract North took eight tricks for a score of 120 points.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) —Grain futures advanced Tuesday on the Chicago Board of Trade as unsettled weather brought buying into the market.

At the final bell, wheat was up ⅜ to ⅞; corn unchanged to up ⅜; oats unchanged to up ½; rye up ¼ to 1½; and soybeans unchanged to up ½.

Nearby wheat prices were strong. Commercial houses bought December and sold March at 4⅞ cents difference. Others who sold March took deferred contracts. With export activity expected very soon, there was no pressure on the market.

Corn was firm. Early trading was light and mixed, but a commercial house was a heavy buyer of March and December corn. Local traders and commission houses sold. All bids for export subsidies were rejected.

Cash house buying of December oats helped to firm the oats market.

Rye was strong in all contracts.

Soybeans registered gains of a cent or more in most contracts. Trade was moderate, but local traders and commission houses were active. Higher meal prices lent support. Considerable interest was expressed in a crushing report to be released Wednesday.

No export sales were reported. India was said to be negotiating for 3,750,000 bushels of wheat, and Brazil may accept offers on a similar amount Wednesday.

Outside markets were mostly higher. The range:

Council Orders Police Chief Back To Work

Ridgeley Mayor Is Reversed

The Town Council of Ridgeley overruled Mayor Charles H. Fryer at a special meeting last night and rescinded a suspension order affecting the town's police chief, Jack D. Cornett.

It was disclosed at a brief meeting in the town hall, attended by some 50 spectators, that Mayor Fryer suspended Chief Cornett on November 20 on a charge that the police chief failed to obey instructions of the mayor and accepted bond money from a West Virginia motorist, contrary to instructions.

Mayor Fryer said he had instructed Chief Cornett that he could not accept collateral, but that all traversers should be taken before the police magistrate or the person acting in the magistrate's absence. Mayor Fryer serves as the magistrate in the town and collects fees in connection with convictions and fines as his compensation for this service.

Urges Written Orders

It was disclosed at the meeting that Chief Cornett had turned the $10 bond over to a member of the council, as Mayor Fryer was not available at the time.

Thomas N. Berry, attorney for Cornett, suggested to the mayor and council that instructions of this kind be given the police chief in writing and that any policy question, especially regarding fines or collateral, should not be handled by verbal orders.

In many states, Mr. Berry pointed out, police officers are permitted to accept cash collateral from motorists who have been arrested. In Maryland, he explained, this plan works out well and collateral is collected and usually surrendered in default. The method of auditing keeps the entire record straight, he noted.

Suspension Lifted

Mr. Berry suggested that in view of the numerous probems which seem to be of a recurring nature, members of the Ridgeley police force and other regular employes of the municipality should be placed under some form of Civil Service.

When the charge against Chief Cornett was outlined, a member of council moved that the suspension be lifted and that Chief Cornett be returned to full duty without any loss of salary or income during the time he was off duty. The vote was four to one for lifting the suspension, and after the result was announced, the meeting was adjourned.

Mayor Fryer recently suspended another police officer and at a subsequent public airing, the officer was ordered returned to duty without prejudice.

State Traffic Accidents Up During October

Maryland's 23 counties had a total of 3,460 traffic accidents during the month of October, a 20 per cent increase over the same month of 1958, and 26 of the crashes were fatal.

This information was included in a report submitted by the State Police to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners. In all categories except the number of fatal accidents a decided increase was reported over October 1958. The number of fatal accidents remained unchanged at 26.

Last month there were 798 personal injury accidents in the 23 counties, a 23 per cent increase; 2,636 property damage accidents, up 19 per cent; 31 persons were killed, a seven per cent increase, and 1,210 were injured, a 26 per cent hike.

Allegany County figures included in the report showed 69 accidents, an average of better than two a day; three fatal accidents, 12 personal injury accidents, 54 property damage accidents, three persons were killed and 21 others injured.

Garrett County, which was the scene of the tragic September accident in which seven school bus passengers were killed, had 22 October accidents but none fatal. There were eight personal injury accidents there last month, 14 property damage accidents and eight persons were injured, just one for each accident.

These figures, which do not include totals for Baltimore City, show that the greatest number of accidents last month was in Baltimore County, 876, and the lowest number was 18 in Calvert County. Harford County had the most persons killed in traffic accidents, five.

Apparently, the chief reason the State Police sent the report to the county commissioners was that 25 or 36.2 per cent of the county total occurred on unnumbered routes, generally roads in the county roads system. Thursday was the worst day for the unnumbered route accidents in Allegany County, six.

Presumably, the State Police believe that greater traffic safety measures are neded on the back roads of this and other Maryland counties.

Self-Insurance Plan For City Is Under Study

Fund Would Reduce Premium Payments

Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor, said yesterday he is studying the possibilities of the city's maintaining a self-insurance fund to reduce premiums on municipally-owned buildings and equipment.

Mr. Gibson pointed out that many city and county governments are beginning to assume a certain amount of the risk involved in the insuring of properties.

"The city can set aside a reasonable sum for self-insurance to set up a reserve fund to take care of smaller claims with a savings in premiums," the auditor said.

"This, however, cannot be done without legislation," he added, noting that the city would have to set up an ordinance to make it self-insured.

Premiums Now $7,072

Cumberland presently pays premiums of $7,072.58 annually on $1,874,190 worth of property.

This is on an 80 per cent basis, Mr. Gibson explained, with full payment made to the city on any loss up to 80 per cent of the total value of the property involved.

"In the past 10 or 12 years," Mr. Gibson said, "only two or three small claims of $200 or so have been paid to the city for damage to its property."

Under the self-insurance plan the city would take out deductible insurance on its property, thus paying a smaller premium. The amount to be deductible can be set after careful study of the program, the auditor continued.

The remainder of the monies appropriated for insurance then can be placed in a reserve fund to be invested by the city. This reserve will be used to pay small claims with full insurance coverage allotted for larger claims.

Cites Example

An example, Mr. Gibson said, would be for the city to pay about $2,000 for deductible insurance premiums with the remaining $5,000 now paid out to be placed in the fund. In 10 years the city will have a reserve fund over $50,000. In 20 years the fund will total over $125,000.

This, Mr. Gibson said, will be more than enough to pay for small insurance claims and the fund meanwhile will be earning more and more interest for the city as it grows.

The auditor said Montgomery County uses a self-insurance system.

The trustees of this fund recently paid the Montgomery Board of Education a check for $34,550 for a school destroyed by fire. This fund was established in the county in 1954 with appropriations made annually to pay full insurance coverage.

Montgomery County, Mr. Gibson said, carries full catastrophe insurance for losses over $100,000. The balance of the reserve fund invested by the trustees has accumulated to $355,301 within five years. This will more than pay off losses under the $100,000-deductible insurance carried by the county, he said.

The driver of the gasoline truck, Paul C. Foor of RD 3, Everett, apparently was uninjured in the collision at 5 p. m. a mile south of Manns Choice.

Waugerman was reported to have been traveling south on the highway and rammed the left front fender of the truck which was traveling north on Route 96.

The injured man was taken to the hospital in an ambulance and was admitted about 5:30 p. m. Pennsylvania State Police are investigating.

One-Armed Man Loses Two Fingers

Clarence "Jack" Fulk, 53, of 500 Dilley Street, was reported in "satisfactory" condition last night at Sacred Heart Hospital where he was admitted late Monday night with a serious hand injury he sustained while working.

Mr. Fulk, who is employed as a janitor for the State Roads Commission, injured his right hand while using a power saw at the SRC garage on Braddock Road.

The hospital reported Mr. Fulk suffered the loss of his index finger and most of his thumb. He underwent surgery to save the remaining three fingers.

Mr. Fulk managed to call the State Police barracks at LaVale following the accident, and Sgt. Harry Bosley took him to the hospital.

A considerable amount of clothing in a closet at 2 Oak Street was destroyed by fire yesterday morning.

South End firemen got a call at 11:58 a. m. to the home of David Markley, who just about had the fire extinguished.

The clothes were in a second floor bedroom closet. The cause of the fire was undetermined, firemen said.

Applicants Okayed For Patrolmen

In a brief, routine meeting last night at City Hall the Civil Service Commission approved 12 applications for patrolmen in the Police Department and set December 8 as the examination date.

Wallace G. Ullery, secretary to the commission, said that for the first time in the city's history, four of the approved applicants reside outside the city limits.

Their applications were approved by the commission, he said, under the recently enacted Charter Resolution Amendment 12 which stipulates an applicant may reside outside the city during his probationary period but that he must move into the city within 30 days after being accepted as a regular member of the department. The resolution became effective November 10.

Altogether, Mr. Ullery said, 20 applications were reviewed by the commission. Eight were turned down because they failed to meet minimum physical requirements.

The examinations for patrolmen will be held Tuesday, December 8, at Fort Hill High School, beginning at 7 p. m.

The commission also noted the suspension of Officer Kenneth Henry who recently was injured in a fight with three men while off duty. It took no action in the matter of Henry's appeal pending filing of formal charges against the officer.

Lodge To Use Jane Frazier House Logs

Logs from the old Jane Frazier House which was destroyed by fire will be utilized in the construction of a $2,000 skating lodge at the edge of Frazier Lake on Oldtown Road just east of the city limits.

James Alfred Avirett yesterday obtained a permit from the county assessing department to erect the 30-by-20-foot log structure.

Another permit was issued by the county to Edward E. Habeeb, local florist, to build a $10,000 storeroom and office on Baltimore Pike six miles east of Cumberland.

Youth Missing

City police said that Charles J. Garlitz Jr., 15-year-old youth who resides at 110 North Cedar Street, has been reported missing by his father. The boy was last seen at midnight Sunday. Christmas Only A Month Away; Mail Parcels Early Christmas is just a month away, and area postmasters are passing along the message that it is time to start those Christmas mailings.

Some suggestions:

When you wrap your packages make sure you use sturdy corrugated mailing cartons, plenty of heavy brown wrapping paper, and be sure that every package is tied with strong cord.

If you have articles of unusual size or bulk, better check with the Post Office before attempting to mail them—the limits of size and weight of packages vary, depending on where you mail your packages from.

Here are some more helpful suggestions:

Always send your Christmas cards by first class mail. They will be delivered quicker and they will be forwarded or returned, if it becomes necessary.

Christmas cards sent by four-cent first class or seven-cent air mail may carry written messages, whereas cards sent with third class three-cent postage may only have a written signature and will not be forwarded or returned.

It is always advisable to include your name and return address on each Christmas card envelope because this helps your friends to keep their mailing lists up-to-date and insures correction of your own list if the card is returned as under undeliverable.

If you delay now in getting your Christmas cards and packages to the Post Office, dreaded pile-ups are bound to occur, causing unavoidable slowdowns in deliveries as the holiday approaches.

County Roads May Obtain Federal Funds

$201,519 Available On Matching Basis

More than $403,000 apparently will be spent in the next two years to place a hard surface on some of Allegany County's dirt roads.

Yesterday, the Board of County Commissioners received another monthly report from the State Roads Commission which shows that $201,519 in Federal aid for secondary roads is available for Allegany County on a matching basis.

Some $99,594 is included in the 1959 allocation in which there must be agreement by June 30, 1960, and the 1960 allocation is $101,925 on which agreement must be reached by August 31, 1960.

County Roads Supervisor Harry T. Skelly said last night that plans are being prepared for the surfacing of present dirt roads, virtually all of which are located in the eastern end of the county. Lee Bush has been employed by the County Roads Department in recent months to help in the preparation of these plans.

The programs submitted by the county must gain the approval of the State Roads Commission before the Federal funds will be made available. The approval must come before August 31, 1960, in order for the county to get all of the matching funds.

Mr. Skelly pointed out that none of the money can be spent for resurfacing as the Federal regulations stipulate that this money must be spent for base and initial surface of the road only.

The county commissioners began planning to utilize the Federal matching funds when their annual levy list was adopted April 21. They included a $49,000 item for Federal aid project. Mr. Skelly said the county also has about $72,000 left from a $150,000 road construction Federal fund obtained in 1956.

Pay Raise For State Workers, Teachers Aired

Legislators Hear Conflicting Views

By CHARLES E. WARDER

BALTIMORE (AP) — Increase the pay of teachers and state employes or the exodus to better paying positions will impair services and lower efficiency, the Legislative Council was told Tuesday by their spokesmen.

Grant everything the teachers and state workers want and the taxpayers will have to cough up an extra 27 million dollars, a General Assembly committee said in rebuttal.

These briefly were the arguments presented at a hearing before the council, between-sessions study group of the Legislature.

The tug-of-war, which eventually will be decided in Annapolis, was rehearsed at the hearing on salary proposals recommended for approval by a committee headed by Sen. William S. James (D-Harford).

$7,400,000 A Year

The plan, which would benefit more experienced teachers and career workers employed by state agencies, would cost about $7,400,000 a year.

The program being pushed by the Maryland State Teachers Assn. would cost about 15 million annually, with pay jumps for all. The Maryland Classified Employes Assn. wants a straight 10 per cent across-the-board hike, costing about five million dollars.

Both organizations presented charts, tables and oral arguments. The James committee had inserted into the record the contention that new taxes would have to be imposed to meet the cost.

The state is expected to wind up the 1960 fiscal year with a healthy surplus. But Gov. Tawes has said his administration won't stand by and let it become a "grab bag" for various groups trying to get a share of it in their budgets.

The James committee informed the council that "very heavy" increases in funds will be needed in the next fiscal year "especially in the field of mental hygiene and public welfare."

Couldn't Balance Budget

"A salary increase program of 20 million dollars would produce a budget of 245 million dollars," the committee said. "It is unlikely that such a budget could be balanced, even by the use of surpluses.

"If, however, it could be done and were done, the 1962 fiscal picture would develop with a budget of approximately 262 million dollars and a revenue of approximately 235 million dollars, leaving a 27 million dollar gap to be filled with new taxation."

Milson C. Raver, executive secretary of the teachers association, argued that if its salary program is not enacted it would adversely affect teacher recruitment and lower educational standards.

The state, he said, is in its best financial position since World War II and is able to meet the demand for a statewide minimum pay of $4,000 to $6,000, linked to the equalization fund.

Fears Higher Turnover

Herbert H. Hubbard, counsel for the state workers organization, argued that if the James Committee report is adopted "the already high turnover in the state service will be increased."

"We will continue to appeal to only the average and below average employe," he said, "and the result will be increased expense to the taxpayer."

The James Committee salary proposal would set an 11th stage for teachers. Those reaching their 10-year maximum salary step-up would get an increase of $300. The state - guaranteed salary minimums would be boosted from a range of $3,200-$5,000 to $3,500-$5,300.

A sixth pay step would be added to state employes' salaries, with a five per cent hike for this group. The James committee proposal also would aim at bringing state pay scales in line with similar, non-government jobs.

Council Orders Police Chief Back To Work

Ridgeley Mayor Is Reversed

The Town Council of Ridgeley overruled Mayor Charles H. Fryer at a special meeting last night and rescinded a suspension order affecting the town's police chief, Jack D. Cornett.

It was disclosed at a brief meeting in the town hall, attended by some 50 spectators, that Mayor Fryer suspended Chief Cornett on November 20 on a charge that the police chief failed to obey instructions of the mayor and accepted bond money from a West Virginia motorist, contrary to instructions.

Mayor Fryer said he had instructed Chief Cornett that he could not accept collateral, but that all traversers should be taken before the police magistrate or the person acting in the magistrate's absence. Mayor Fryer serves as the magistrate in the town and collects fees in connection with convictions and fines as his compensation for this service.

Urges Written Orders

It was disclosed at the meeting that Chief Cornett had turned the $10 bond over to a member of the council, as Mayor Fryer was not available at the time.

Thomas N. Berry, attorney for Cornett, suggested to the mayor and council that instructions of this kind be given the police chief in writing and that any policy question, especially regarding fines or collateral, should not be handled by verbal orders.

In many states, Mr. Berry pointed out, police officers are permitted to accept cash collateral from motorists who have been arrested. In Maryland, he explained, this plan works out well and collateral is collected and usually surrendered in default. The method of auditing keeps the entire record straight, he noted.

Suspension Lifted

Mr. Berry suggested that in view of the numerous probems which seem to be of a recurring nature, members of the Ridgeley police force and other regular employes of the municipality should be placed under some form of Civil Service.

When the charge against Chief Cornett was outlined, a member of council moved that the suspension be lifted and that Chief Cornett be returned to full duty without any loss of salary or income during the time he was off duty. The vote was four to one for lifting the suspension, and after the result was announced, the meeting was adjourned.

Mayor Fryer recently suspended another police officer and at a subsequent public airing, the officer was ordered returned to duty without prejudice.

State Traffic Accidents Up During October

Maryland's 23 counties had a total of 3,460 traffic accidents during the month of October, a 20 per cent increase over the same month of 1958, and 26 of the crashes were fatal.

This information was included in a report submitted by the State Police to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners. In all categories except the number of fatal accidents a decided increase was reported over October 1958. The number of fatal accidents remained unchanged at 26.

Last month there were 798 personal injury accidents in the 23 counties, a 23 per cent increase; 2,636 property damage accidents, up 19 per cent; 31 persons were killed, a seven per cent increase, and 1,210 were injured, a 26 per cent hike.

Allegany County figures included in the report showed 69 accidents, an average of better than two a day; three fatal accidents, 12 personal injury accidents, 54 property damage accidents, three persons were killed and 21 others injured.

Garrett County, which was the scene of the tragic September accident in which seven school bus passengers were killed, had 22 October accidents but none fatal. There were eight personal injury accidents there last month, 14 property damage accidents and eight persons were injured, just one for each accident.

These figures, which do not include totals for Baltimore City, show that the greatest number of accidents last month was in Baltimore County, 876, and the lowest number was 18 in Calvert County. Harford County had the most persons killed in traffic accidents, five.

Apparently, the chief reason the State Police sent the report to the county commissioners was that 25 or 36.2 per cent of the county total occurred on unnumbered routes, generally roads in the county roads system. Thursday was the worst day for the unnumbered route accidents in Allegany County, six.

Presumably, the State Police believe that greater traffic safety measures are neded on the back roads of this and other Maryland counties.

Self-Insurance Plan For City Is Under Study

Fund Would Reduce Premium Payments

Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor, said yesterday he is studying the possibilities of the city's maintaining a self-insurance fund to reduce premiums on municipally-owned buildings and equipment.

Mr. Gibson pointed out that many city and county governments are beginning to assume a certain amount of the risk involved in the insuring of properties.

"The city can set aside a reasonable sum for self-insurance to set up a reserve fund to take care of smaller claims with a savings in premiums," the auditor said.

"This, however, cannot be done without legislation," he added, noting that the city would have to set up an ordinance to make it self-insured.

Premiums Now $7,072

Cumberland presently pays premiums of $7,072.58 annually on $1,874,190 worth of property.

This is on an 80 per cent basis, Mr. Gibson explained, with full payment made to the city on any loss up to 80 per cent of the total value of the property involved.

"In the past 10 or 12 years," Mr. Gibson said, "only two or three small claims of $200 or so have been paid to the city for damage to its property."

Under the self-insurance plan the city would take out deductible insurance on its property, thus paying a smaller premium. The amount to be deductible can be set after careful study of the program, the auditor continued.

The remainder of the monies appropriated for insurance then can be placed in a reserve fund to be invested by the city. This reserve will be used to pay small claims with full insurance coverage allotted for larger claims.

Cites Example

An example, Mr. Gibson said, would be for the city to pay about $2,000 for deductible insurance premiums with the remaining $5,000 now paid out to be placed in the fund. In 10 years the city will have a reserve fund over $50,000. In 20 years the fund will total over $125,000.

This, Mr. Gibson said, will be more than enough to pay for small insurance claims and the fund meanwhile will be earning more and more interest for the city as it grows.

The auditor said Montgomery County uses a self-insurance system.

The trustees of this fund recently paid the Montgomery Board of Education a check for $34,550 for a school destroyed by fire. This fund was established in the county in 1954 with appropriations made annually to pay full insurance coverage.

Montgomery County, Mr. Gibson said, carries full catastrophe insurance for losses over $100,000. The balance of the reserve fund invested by the trustees has accumulated to $355,301 within five years. This will more than pay off losses under the $100,000-deductible insurance carried by the county, he said.

Applicants Okayed For Patrolmen

In a brief, routine meeting last night at City Hall the Civil Service Commission approved 12 applications for patrolmen in the Police Department and set December 8 as the examination date.

Wallace G. Ullery, secretary to the commission, said that for the first time in the city's history, four of the approved applicants reside outside the city limits.

Their applications were approved by the commission, he said, under the recently enacted Charter Resolution Amendment 12 which stipulates an applicant may reside outside the city during his probationary period but that he must move into the city within 30 days after being accepted as a regular member of the department. The resolution became effective November 10.

Altogether, Mr. Ullery said, 20 applications were reviewed by the commission. Eight were turned down because they failed to meet minimum physical requirements.

The examinations for patrolmen will be held Tuesday, December 8, at Fort Hill High School, beginning at 7 p. m.

The commission also noted the suspension of Officer Kenneth Henry who recently was injured in a fight with three men while off duty. It took no action in the matter of Henry's appeal pending filing of formal charges against the officer.

Lodge To Use Jane Frazier House Logs

Logs from the old Jane Frazier House which was destroyed by fire will be utilized in the construction of a $2,000 skating lodge at the edge of Frazier Lake on Oldtown Road just east of the city limits.

James Alfred Avirett yesterday obtained a permit from the county assessing department to erect the 30-by-20-foot log structure.

Another permit was issued by the county to Edward E. Habeeb, local florist, to build a $10,000 storeroom and office on Baltimore Pike six miles east of Cumberland.
